Order less auto usage in region

The St. Louis metropolitan region is the subject of a U. S. Environmental Protection Agency order in order for the region to meet a 1975 deadline on air quality standards.

Specific controls were not outlined. St. Louis, St. Louis County and Missouri agencies have been instructed to develop effective measures or combinations of measures.

Alan K. Kirk II, EPA enforcement chief, said generalizations such as car pool appeals will be insufficient. Specific steps to assure adequate compliance will be mandatory, he explained.

Possible programs are gasoline rationing, improved mass transportation, parking bans and punitive parking taxes.

L. A. Angeles is considering gasoline rationing and Washington, D. C., is studying banning all cars from the city area except specially licensed autos.

About 36 metropolitan areas, including St. Louis, are being notified this month of the necessity to curb usage of autos in some effective way.

Hearings are planned this summer, and regulations will be imposed on those regions failing to meet acceptable plans.

Another federal regulation, presented in draft form this week, is intended to require clear air agencies to control such traffic generators as supermarkets and stadiums.

State agencies are to inform the U. S. by Aug. 15 whether they have legal power to veto new construction developments. In states failing to assume such power, the U. S. will, Kirk said yesterday.

Currently proposed rules are to be effective Dec. 15, with states designating by next March 15 those regions where growth patterns are likely to generate air pollution. The states will have two years after that to prepare land use plans ensuring clean air for the next 20 years.

Mayor Schuler offers 1973 Flag Day tribute

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler was to be the guest speaker at the Elks Lodge 1063 salute to Flag Day at noon today in front of the lodge hall at Niedringhaus Avenue and State Street.

Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Explorers were to present a mass display of the colors also scheduled to participate in the program were Clyde Merz, Elks Americanism committee chairman, and Exalted Ruler Ivan Pomeroy.

Portions of the text of the speech Schuler prepared for the event follow.

"Ever since 1776, the Stars and Stripes have been a symbol of freedom for people all over the world.

Today, however, many of us who watched the Shriners Parade saw a re-enactment of our fighting men raising the flag on Iwo Jima. The courage of the American people was vividly

Contract on sewer breaks

A contract for repair of a series of leaks in sanitary sewer lines in the Nameoli area was awarded by the Granite City Council Monday night to Finis P. Ernest Inc., East St. Louis contracting firm.

The contract award was approved by a 13 to 1 roll call vote after Alderman Emerald Daves, chairman of the street and alley committee, said the Ernest firm's bid was the nearest to a firm bid the city can expect to get for sewer break repairs.

The only other bid, submitted by C. D. Peters Construction Co. of Granite City, was rejected by the council, because it was strictly a cost-plus offer which would give the city no idea of the cost involved in repairing sewer breaks.

Only dissenting vote against awarding the contract to the Ernest company was cast by Alderman Gerald Parnley who said he favored the cost-plus method of doing the work. He noted that most of the repairs of a series of sewer breaks occurring in 1969 were made on a cost-plus basis.

Lionel Portell, city street superintendent, said the city now has 11 major sewer breaks, all of them in the Nameoli area, and that the street department's manpower has been taxed to provide pumping facilities to bypass the breaks.

Portell has estimated cost of the repairs as high as $200,000. He said a substantial part of the cost will be recovered in grants under the flood disaster control program. Officials of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency have made several trips to Granite City to evaluate the extent of the flood damage to sewer lines.

Price rollback ordered

President Richard M. Nixon last night "froze" prices for 60 days at their highest levels between June 1 and June 8. In some cases, this will require a rollback of later price boosts.

The 60 days will be used to devise a system of tighter wage-price controls to be known as Phase 3.

There is no freeze on wages in the 60-day program he announced. Also not affected are prices of raw agricultural products at farms.

President Nixon said wages will remain free of controls as long as settlements continue to be "reasonable and non-inflationary."

There is no immediate change on rents, interest and dividends, which remain under relatively free Phase 3 guidelines.

Mr. Nixon ordered the Internal Revenue Service to audit companies that have raised prices over 15% since January, and to force rollbacks unless the hikes stemmed from rising costs. He also proposed a new system of food export controls by Congress.

The effect of the President's action yesterday is to limit at wholesale and retail prices to what they were in the first week in June.

He urged Congress to limit its spending proposals, approve the Alaska pipeline, adopt a bill to encourage production, permit sale of stockpiled commodities and authorize tariff reductions to expand supplies of scarce products.

Investigate death of boy, 2

An investigation has been started into the death of a 2-year-old East Madison boy who was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital Monday with bruises about his body and died there 25 minutes later.

The boy was Richard Lee Harley, son of Mrs. Connie Wurmack, 2012 Shelby St., Madison, who had taken him to the hospital emergency room from her home.

The boy's father, Richard Harley, lives in Granite City. The report of an autopsy conducted by Clinical Laboratories, St. Louis, showed that the cause of death was "multiple injuries to the head and body," according to Edward Werner, Madison County deputy coroner.

The Madison County sheriff's office was notified and the sheriff's office is conducting an investigation.

Ewin Knezevich, juvenile investigator, said he was notified of the death by the Family Services Agency, which said the boy was severely bruised. He said he is awaiting a report from a pathologist which will determine further official action by his division.

Knezevich said, "There is a possibility that the child had pneumonia. It is not sure that it (the injuries) caused death."

An inquest is to be set by Werner.

Funeral services were held Tuesday. No other survivors were reported.

Details are listed in today's official column.

Transition problems

As usually occurs during such sweeping mechanical changes as that currently under way at the Press-Record, some problems associated with the transition have developed.

Color photographs, particularly those having slightly reddish facial tones, have engendered poorly and must be rejected for the time being. Black and white photos with extensive facial shadow also are a problem, as are pictures with faulty focus or exposure.

In some instances, type reduction clarity and advertising illustrations.

An improved product remains the goal, and specific steps are being taken to remedy temporary impairments encountered during the "break-in" of new equipment and techniques.

Motorcyclist injured in Madison accident

River Fest contract

The SIU board's executive committee Tuesday night approved a contract for presentation of the 1973 Mississippi River Festival concert series at SIUE.

MRF will pay $40,000 for campus facilities and services. Meeting direct but not indirect costs, the payment was described as fair to all by SIUE President John Rendleman.

20¢ rate for Southwestern Jr. College

A 20-cent tax rate ceiling is proposed for a Quad-City area junior college. The maximum per $100 valuation would be 15 cents for educational purposes and five cents for building purposes.

The tax would not be automatic but would depend on the extent of state financial participation and the amount of future levies by the board of the proposed district. The rates could be lower than indicated.

The board would be chosen in a second election following a vote to create the district. If the initial election is permitted by such authorities as the Illinois Junior College Board and if it is favorable.

Petitions being circulated for the proposed district designate it as the Southwestern Junior College District.

This community is in both the southwestern part of Illinois and the southwestern portion of Madison County. For many years, the regional high school athletic conference has been the Southwestern Conference.

Local action, such as the petitioning required by June 30 under IJC requirements, inaction would be expected to result in assignment of this area to either the Godfrey (Lewis and Clark), East St. Louis or Belleville college districts. Existing state law gives such authority to the IJC.

A central part of the Southwestern Junior College plan involves extensive cooperation with Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville under consortium arrangements.

Estimates indicate that through the consortium, annual tax costs to Quad-Cityans would be lower than under any other foreseeable alternative. Classes would be provided in both SIUE and local facilities, such as high schools.

Additional class locations might be Central Junior High School, whose use has been restricted by the Granite City School District, and the Venice Lincoln Technical Center, whose future use is being studied by the state and federal governments.

Find may be 900 years old

Fragments of human bones and artifacts which may be more than 900 years old, were discovered by 14-year-old Bill Palmer of Glen Carbon on the bank of a sand pit lake owned by the Quality Sand Co. at 4439 Highway 162, Pontoon Beach.

Pontoon Beach Police Officers J. D. Smith and Chet Ballew

while on routine patrol at 6:25 p.m. Friday saw two cars parked at sand pit lake.

When they got out of their car to advise the people that swimming was not allowed and that they were trespassing on private property, young Palmer told them he discovered what he believed to be human bones.

"We looked at the bones and could not tell for sure if they were human or not, but I knew they were very old so I notified SIUE in case one of their archeologists wanted to come out and check the area," Officer Smith related.

On Monday afternoon, Miss Linda Moore of the university examined the area and requested that the bones be turned over to her. She said she believed the pottery bits and bones were from the Mississippi Indian

McKinley may be next city bridge for sale

The city of Venice is looking into the possibility of selling McKinley Bridge, possibly to the federal government, Dr. John E. Lee, mayor, said at the City Council meeting Tuesday night.

The city-owned Mississippi River toll bridge, built in 1910, links Venice with North St. Louis.

Mayor Lee said he has been in contact with the office of U. S. Congressman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) in regard to sale of the bridge.

"We asked him to explore the possibilities to see if the state or federal governments would pay off the bonds and make it a free bridge," Dr. Lee said.

The city has $3,302,000 in "A" bonds and $1,001,000 in series "B" bonds outstanding on the bridge.

Although all "A" bond principal and interest payments have been made since the bridge was purchased by Venice in 1956, a loss of income due to reduced traffic has caused the city to default on all "B" bond interest since 1960.

The "B" bonds are not scheduled to be retired until all "A" bonds have been paid in full, in October 1980, if the city continues to meet the retirement schedule.

The city is $936,390 behind on

"B" bond interest payments. The Illinois Terminal Railroad holds about 70% of the bridge "B" bonds.

Another problem faced by the city is that an escalator clause was placed in the "A" bond payment timetable which provided for a schedule of bond retirement faster than the 1968 agreement provided that if the city could not meet the faster payment schedule, all income from the bridge would have to remain in bridge accounts and could not be used by the city.

Because of the clause, the city treasury has not been aided by income from the bridge since 1968, and would have to pay $740,000 in addition to regular "A" bond principal and interest payments in order to catch up with the escalated scale and qualify to receive funds from bridge operations.

The bridge began experiencing financial difficulties with the opening of the free Poplar Street Bridge.

Later opening of the Interstate 270 free bridge further reduced the traffic load and income.

Traffic flow has shown a decline since 1963, although a slight rise in traffic in the first half of this year has been encouraging, Dr. Lee said. "We have to protect our bondholders. If traffic would continue to fall, we would have to default on our A bond interest," the mayor said, adding, "that is the reason we are contacting the federal government to see if they can help."

If traffic remains at its present level, we will continue to meet all A bond principal and interest payments, but will continue to default on B bond payments," he explained.

He said copies of traffic counts and a revenue report on the bridge operations is being sent to Cong. Price.

Madison's Chain of Rocks Bridge also is for sale.

Madison will appeal court busing ruling

The Madison Board of Education last night gave permission to William Kinder, school district attorney, to take preliminary steps to filing an appeal to a recent busing decision.

The decision, issued by the late Circuit Judge James O. McCarre Jr., called for total integration of all Madison schools and busing, if necessary, to meet the guidelines.

Kinder said he has not received a transcript of the trial held May 14, but will take the first steps necessary to appeal.

"In other business, the school board gave permission to John Patchell, acting superintendent of schools, to complete transfers of custodians among districts. The transfers were requested by the custodians, Patchell said.

Zoning proposals on Pontoon agenda today

A request to rezone property along the west side of Route 111 and on both sides of Route 102 in Pontoon Beach will be brought before the village board at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in Village Hall.

The village mayor, Floyd David Mess, a former trustee, Carl Mackney, and their wives, plan to construct a commercial area there and have asked for a B-2 business zoning. The village zoning board held a public on-site hearing last night but reportedly did not have a quorum.

The zoning board will vote before the village board meeting and will make its recommendation to the village trustees tonight. It was reported.

MORE ABOUT 900 years old

Culture that prevailed in this area from 750 to 1500 A.D. was the subject of a presentation by Curator Anderson told the Press-Record. "I believe we may have three burial sites here. The bank is badly eroded. We apparently have found either the beginning or the outer edge of a Mississippian burial ground.

"We cannot come into the area on any massive scale due to lack of funds. However, I am going to attempt to get some volunteers from our project at the mound. If the owners of the land give us permission, we'll do some work at the sand pit on weekends."

MORE ABOUT Flag Day

Illustrated by this single act of heroism.

"Recently I attended a breakfast and those in attendance were among the most powerful and influential in our community. Questions were asked as to what were the most important problems in our area and how they may be solved.

"There were many suggestions offered—but the one that stood out far was this: there must be rekindled a pride in our community.

"I would add only that along with this should go a rekindling of love of God and love of country.

"On this Flag Day of 1973, I think it quite appropriate that we pledge ourselves to speak and act in a positive manner—that we pledge ourselves to make this a better community—a community in which we all can take pride."

Bike riders start 3rd day in marathon event

Residents in the vicinity of Frontenac and Devon Hill areas, near Franklin Avenue, gleaning out of a window at 2 or 4 a.m. may be startled to see bike riders silhouetted peering leisurely past their house at a pace more in keeping with mid-afternoon than the middle of the night.

A group of 13 youths, joined frequently during the daytime by younger brothers and sisters, started a bike riding marathon at noon Tuesday. They hope to break a record of 17 consecutive days riding around a block.

At noon today they have continued to ride, usually two at a time and sometimes more, for the past 48 hours, including during a period of heavy rain Tuesday.

Most of the youths are members of a newly formed Granite City High School Hockey Club who hoped to play with the school's hockey squad in its initial season this fall.

Attached to one of the bicycles is an "old" engineer's cap in which passersby are invited to drop a donation to help the new club "get off the ground," according to Mike Whaley, a participant.

Whaley, 16, said it will cost between $150 and $175 for each hockey player to provide his own uniform, equipment and insurance coverage.

The Illinois Senate by a 24-19 vote Monday blocked an effort to restore $12,000 in extra money for plane flights by the governor. He will continue to have the $50,000 value earlier utilized by former Gov. Ogilvie.

A bill approved Monday by the Senate and sent to Gov. Walker requires state payments within 45 days to hospitals serving public aid patients.

The Senate approved 27-1 and sent to the governor on Monday a bill to limit the salary of the Madison County supervisor of assessments to a range of $13,000 to $25,000 a year.

Danis Walker to head the Illinois Liquor Control Commission, appointed Rubin Cohn, a University of Illinois law professor, to investigate $50,000 provided to the governor's campaign by a liquor licensee. Walker said Tuesday it was a loan and has been paid back.

A world food shortage has developed, especially the two most basic foods, wheat and rice, the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization said Monday in Rome. A drought was among the reasons given.

Lyle L. Ballance Jr. of Mitchell will be one of 15 cadets at SIUE commissioned as second lieutenants in ceremonies at 12:30 p.m. Friday in the Communications theater.

Bigger and better entertainment, extending over a four-day period, is planned this year by the Granite City Jaycees who will sponsor their 13th annual Homecoming celebration, starting at 6 o'clock tonight and continuing through Sunday.

The event will be staged again this year on a vacant tract of land at West 25th Street and Missouri Avenue, where plenty of parking will be available for patrons, Jerry Gann, Jaycee project chairman, said today.

Hours of the celebration will be from 6 p.m. until midnight, today and Friday and from 2 p.m. to midnight, Saturday and Sunday.

A wide assortment of mid-way rides, including a "brand new thriller" called "Hurricane" are being provided by the Ray Swyco Co. of New Athens, Ill., Gann said.

The carnival area also will feature a ferris wheel, merry-go-round, tilt-a-whirl, octopus, scrambler and rock-a-planes. Additionally, there will be a fun house and special rides for young children.

Music entertainment will be spotlighted nightly in the Jaycee-sponsored "beer" garden, beginning at 7 o'clock through the midnight closing hour, the chairman said.

Featured this year will be Eddie Everett and the All Stars, a five-piece country western band from KSD-TV Channel 5 will visit with youngsters who attend a matinee session from 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday, when rides will be priced at 25 cents each. A similar reduced price matinee for children is planned between the same hours on Sunday, Gann said.

Mrs. Kroff told police that she saw Davis drive away in the truck, and a short time later he returned and told a neighbor to "tell Dot" to weaken her truck and took a cab home. There was no police report of a pickup truck being in a traffic accident.

MORE ABOUT Sewer breaks

have been unable to repair the breaks because of the high water table resulting from flood in an attempt to reach the broken lines filled with water conditions. Excavations made at a depth of about seven feet, Portell said.

The Ernest firm prepared its bid on a unit price basis, listing firm prices for cost of materials, labor and equipment. Richard Sage, vice-president of the firm, told the council in Monday night's special meeting that he did not believe a dewatering process will be necessary to reach the lines.

The Ernest bid listed the cost of dewatering at $2,500 per day, and pumping of sewage to bypass breaks at $1,000 a day.

Jim Peters, superintendent of the Peters construction firm, was permitted to address the council. He protested the award of a contract during the session on grounds the city had not provided any specification upon which contractors might make firm bids for the repair work.

Peters said he met with street committee members several times and was "given the impression" that the original call for bids on the sewer repair work was to be cancelled and a new bid call made.

The Peters firm offer was based on cost of the repairs plus 10%.

On Davis' motion, the council authorized Mayor Paul Schuler to complete a contract agreement with the Ernest firm.

Top poster contestants from GC

Four pupils from St. Margaret Mary School in Granite City walked away with the top four trophies offered in the southern Illinois region of the Illinois Chiropractic Society's Correct Posture Poster Contest, it was announced by Dr. E. W. Walton, contest chairman.

Winning posters chosen from among several hundred entries were submitted by John Praxma, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Praxma, 3017 Willow Ave., first place; Carolyn Calderwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Calderwood, 1933 St. Clair Ave., second; Laura Wickman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wickman, 3251 Franklin Ave., third; and Ron Landman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Landman, 2413 Kilmer Ave., fourth place.

The four regional winners' entries have been forwarded to the state level of competition, to be judged in Chicago along with posters selected from other areas of Illinois, Dr. Walton said.

The top state winner receives a $100 U. S. Savings Bond and the child's school is awarded a large trophy. Other prizes are presented to runners-up at the state contest.

The poster event traditionally is held in conjunction with the annual Correct Posture Week.

sponsored by the American Chiropractic Association. The observance takes place in May. Children in fifth and sixth grade classes entered the contest at their individual school with school winners determined by their teachers or a judging panel and submitted to Dr. Walton, who serves as state chairman of the Posture Poster Contest.

The best four posters from Southern Illinois school systems outside the Quad-Cities were sent here to be judged with those entered by local public and parochial pupils, Dr. Walton explained.

In an awards presentation ceremony at St. Margaret Mary School, the local chiropractor addressed the youthful contestants and their parents, telling them the importance of correct posture to general good health and urging the youngsters to adopt good posture habits as illustrated in their posters.

Forcefulness of message, artistic ability, neatness and originality were among criteria on which judges selected the winning entries.

Serving as judges at the regional level were Eugene A. Auer, art education consultant for the Granite City School District; Mrs. Valerie Evenden, Press-Record women's editor;

Marvin VanMetre, executive director, Tri-Cities Area YMCA; and Milton G. Reinhardt, president, Reinhardt Agency.

Youngsters whose posters were considered outstanding at the local level received ribbons and certificates at the awards ceremony, attended by principals and teachers from the individual schools.

Making the presentation were Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, Dr. Walton, Dr. John Vasili, Dr. Walter Mathis, Dr. E. L. Strotheide, Dr. W. B. Heideke and Dr. Frank Shipley.

Marshall School—Steven Grady.

St. Joseph Parochial School—Sandra Vasili, John Veres and David Degonia.

Parkview School—Lori Astorian, Leslie Roberts, Helen Goller, Lisa Kee, Patty Brandibas, Allen Kirgin, Mike Corkran, Todd McFarland, Duane Beaty, Billy Winter, Tracy Skinner and Bruce Menahan.

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service

Springfield — Walker has developed Ogilvie trouble. Like Republican Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie before him, Democratic Gov. Dan Walker has assembled an inner-office, top-level staff that seems determined to make him also a one-term governor.

In the brief span of five months, Walker has created a Statehouse credibility gap as wide as that which existed under Ogilvie.

Beneath the Capitol Dome, there is caustic cynicism about anything that comes out of the governor's office.

The situation has been fermenting for weeks, but it flared over in the uproar that accompanied the firing of Lawrence Johnson as chairman of the Illinois Liquor Control Commission, the third such chairman to go since Walker took office in January.

Not only is there a Statehouse feeling that Johnson is right in the matter, but that the entire affair has been bungled by the state administration in a fashion reminiscent of the White House and Watergate.

Pinpointed as the person directly responsible for the mess is Walker's deputy to the governor and number-one top aide, abrasive Victor De Grazia.

De Grazia has shown an inclination to take his position as deputy governor all too seriously. This was dramatically illustrated in the Johnson case, when he ran the show while Walker was out west attending the National Governors' Conference.

De Grazia has an imperious yen to telephone appointees to top state posts and summarily order them to do this or that, including resign.

Whether he is or is not acting in such situations with the full authority of Gov. Walker is not clear. But to those unfortunate receiving the calls, there is the clear impression that De Grazia is speaking with such authority.

William Goldberg, Chicago attorney — officially designated as legal counsel to the governor, but considered at the Statehouse as nothing more than a De Grazia stooge — also frequently gets into the one-to-one telephone act.

The De Grazia-Goldberg combination is now rated on the Statehouse scale for officious arrogance as topping even the high level established by some of the high-echelon power wielders under Ogilvie.

The question now is: How long will it go on?

So far, Walker has been able to get by on an unimpressive if not poor performance as governor due to the strong cushion of popularity he has created and maintained through his continuing "people-to-people" campaign throughout Illinois.

But the Johnson case could be a turning point. Meanwhile, there are increasing Statehouse predictions that a shake-up is coming in the governor's office and that Vic De Grazia will go.

Levies Ok'd by Nameoki Board climb 15 to 20%

The Nameoki Township Board approved levies Monday night for the 1973-74 fiscal year. The total town purposes levy was $137,891, up $21,095 or 15.4% from last year's levy of $116,796.

A road and bridge levy also was approved, totaling $62,400, up 20.1% from $51,930 in the 1972-73 levy.

The town fund levy was $104,406, up from $88,011 last year, and the general assistance fund levy was approved at $45,485, an increase from $42,985 last fiscal year.

The levy for the Illinois Municipal Retirement fund was $8,000, an increase from $5,500 last year.

The road and bridge levy included $79,400 for the road and bridge fund, up from $68,000 in 1972-73, $10,000 for a special bridge fund, an item not in last year's budget or levy, and $5,000 for the IMRP fund, an increase from $2,500 last year.

The special bridge fund this year is for the township's first payment on a newly completed concrete bridge in State Park Place. The township will pay half the cost and Madison County will match the funds.

The Nameoki Township share is expected to exceed $30,000. The board called a special public hearing for 7 p.m. Monday, June 25, to amend the road and bridge and town fund budgets to include federal sharing expenditures.

Revenue sharing expenditures were not budgeted when the budgets were adopted. A total of $30,000 is to be used for environmental cleanup, $20,000 for replacement of the State Park Place bridge, $10,000 for the Long Lake Fire District's fire plug account, $10,000 for improving the town hall, $10,000 for a township park and $5,000 for expanded animal control.

GC sets deadline on brush, limb hauling

Monday is the last day until fall that Granite City residents may request that the street department haul limbs and brush from their property. Lionel Porttelli, street superintendent said yesterday.

Porttelli said the brush hauling has occupied so much of his manpower that the department is behind on street, sidewalk, curbing repairs and other duties.

"We regret that we can not get the summer work done and still continue to collect brush and limbs, but we have to get this other work done, Porttelli said.

He added that if severe summer storms down limbs and trees in the city, the department will resume brush hauling until the storm damage has been cleaned up, then will return to other duties.

Motorcyclist hurt in crash on McCambridge

Joseph Kelley, 56, of 3141 Willow Ave., was injured when his motorcycle slid underneath an auto on McCambridge Avenue at Second Street in Madison at 1:35 p.m. Tuesday.

Kelley said the unidentified motorist in the car was turning left onto Second Street where left turns are prohibited. He said he laid the moving motorcycle on its side and it slid under the car.

He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted with cuts to his left arm and right hand and bruises to both feet. X-rays were taken.

Public hearing witnesses urge treatment project

A public hearing Tuesday on the proposed Granite City secondary sewage treatment plant lasted only 15 minutes as three witnesses were heard, all speaking in favor of constructing the facility.

The Illinois and Federal Environmental Protection Agencies require a public hearing before approval can be given to applications for 75% funding of the $10.5 million facility.

Mayor Paul Schuler presided over the hearing which was held in the City Hall. Testifying were Chester Baker, president of the Tri-City Chamber of Commerce; Edward Reiske, executive vice-president of the Chamber; and Lance Callis, an attorney representing the city.

Baker said, "In the past 15 years we have been slow in progressing in Granite City but recently efforts to stop air pollution and progress on open burning have been outstanding. There are few incidents of open burning now. Now we need this treatment plant to stop water pollution."

Reiske said he also supported building the facility. "Some

Madison teachers agree on retroactive raises

The Madison Board of Education and American Federation of Teachers Local 763 have reached an agreement on a contract for the 1972-73 school year, John Pulchert, acting superintendent of schools, announced yesterday.

The agreement calls for yearly increases ranging from $210 to $300 per teacher per year, retroactive for all of last year. The board and teachers failed to reach agreement last year on a contract for the 1971-72 school year but the teachers agreed to work under the former year's contract if all raises granted would be retroactive.

The revised salary schedule calls for teachers with bachelor's degrees to receive between $8,100 and $12,200, according to the number of years experience.

The range for teachers with master degrees is from $8,800 to $12,900, and for teachers with bachelor's degrees plus 30 hours additional credits, the scale is $9,800 to $13,600, Pulchert said.

The board and union have agreed to negotiate a contract for the 1973-74 school year. The retroactive agreement marked the last settlement for last year between the district and its employees.

Custodians, cooks, clerks and other district employees were granted retroactive raises after reaching agreements late last month.

Luncheon honors class members

Several months ago it was decided by the Winsome Class of Grace Baptist Church that each member would "adopt" one member of the class of Mrs. Alma Dorway as an "honorary mother" for the year.

In the late spring, the honorary mothers were guests of the class at a luncheon at the church. The old fellowship hall was decorated in pink and white, each table being centered with a bud vase containing a pink carnation.

Mrs. Frances Hoffaker served as toastmaster, welcoming the guests, after which Mrs. Carol Brinker read from the Scriptures.

Mrs. Dorway challenged the younger ladies to "let their lights shine" as the "church of tomorrow."

Each honorary mother introduced herself and her "daughter" and told what Christianity has meant during the year.

Special music was provided by Mrs. Marty Webb and Mrs. Peggy Cunningham, who sang a duet, and Mrs. Mary Porchment and Mrs. Leta Schroeder, an honorary mother.

Mrs. Josephine Kessler was given special recognition on her birthday.

A buffet luncheon was served to those mentioned and Mesdames Margaret Miles, Margaret Woodward, Maude Davenport, Eva Jacobs, Myrtle Lazebny, Myrtle McDowell, Myrtle Travis and Nezzie Meroney, honorary mothers.

Mrs. Katherine Wilson and Mrs. Valata Summers, guests, and Mesdames Estelle Boatman, Betty Howell, Frieda Tiley, Martha Hester, Bonnie Tidwell, Sandy Brown, Carolyn Roach and Faye Hester, Winsome class members, and the Rev. Louis W. Brinker.

Portell-Davis nuptials at St. Mary's Church

Miss Florence Davis, 845 Alton Ave., Madison, and Leo Portell, 2021 Hildebrand Ave., Madison, exchanged wedding vows in an evening ceremony on June 8 at St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Performing the 7 o'clock service was the Rev. Sylvester Micak, O.F.M., before an altar banked with arrangements of white sunflower flowers and greenery.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Cora Davis of Arleta, Calif., and the late William Herbert Davis. Mr. Portell is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Portell.

Jim Havrenok presided at the organ for the soloists, Mrs. Margaret MacZura. Selections played at the ceremony, included "More," "Whither Thou Goest," "Wedding Prayer," "One Hand, One Heart," "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Attending the couple were Mrs. Joan Manning, matron of honor and Thomas Manning, best man, a niece and nephew of the groom.

Seating the guests were Frank and Louis Spahr, the bride's cousins, and Walter Portell, a brother of the groom.

Mrs. Manning wore a floral organza gown in shades of blue, orchid and purple on a white background. Her frock was designed with a high neckline and long sleeves, accented with small buttons at the neck, and the full skirt terminated in a single ruffle at the hemline.

The honor attendant carried a colonial bouquet of turquoise carnations, purple statice and white pom-poms.

The bride, who was escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her mother, chose a powder blue organza dress made with a round neckline forming into a V at the back and long sheer sleeves set in an Empire bodice. Satin ribbons enhanced the waistline and ribbons cascaded from the back to the hem.

She wore a pastel blue lace cap to hold in place her finger-ring veil, and she held a cascade bouquet of white gardenias and stephanotis centered with a gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Davis, mother of the bride, was attired in a frock of Nile green organza over taffeta, complemented with a matching coat and Kelly green accessories.

Mrs. Irma Manning, a sister of the groom, selected a deep pink double knit dress with gold accessories. Both wore corsages of white Sweetheart roses.

A reception was held at the Polish Hall in Madison immediately following the ceremony.

The former Miss Davis is employed as a salary administration clerk at Granite City Steel Co. Her husband works in the hot strip department at Granite City Steel.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mrs. Alice Scott of Potosi, Mo., an aunt of the groom, and Lieutenant Michael Manning, a nephew of the groom, who is stationed in Rhode Island with the U. S. Navy.

The newly married couple will reside in Madison.

Exchange vows in park setting at Collinsville

A natural outdoor setting provided by a grove of trees and shrubs in Woodland Park, Collinsville, was the scene of the wedding on June 9 of Miss Patricia Ann Sweeney, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Sweeney Sr., 206 Fletcher Drive, Collinsville, and David Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Thomas, 2549 State St.

The Rev. David Bruce Maxton, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church in Granite City, performed the 11 a.m. ceremony in a section of the park marked with white satin ribbons.

For her wedding, the bride chose an ankle-length dress of natural colored cotton eyelet designed with a full skirt and dolman sleeves set in a molded bodice.

She complemented her frock with a gold necklace, a gift from the groom. The jewelry belonged to the late Mrs. T. H. Thomas, the groom's grandmother.

The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white star mums, baby breath and ivy. Miss Mary Osborn of Alton served as maid of honor. She wore a gown of pastel floral cotton batiste, demi-length, and held a bouquet of mums, ivy and baby breath.

Attending the groom as best man was Michael Eckhard of Alton. James P. and Thomas Sweeney, brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, parents of the groom, were hosts at a rehearsal dinner given in their home. After the ceremony, guests attended a buffet reception at the Round Table Restaurant in Collinsville.

The bride is a graduate of Rosati-Kain High School in St. Louis and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She now teaches art at Collinsville High School.

Mr. Thomas was graduated from Granite City High School and SIUE. He is employed in the Art Department of the university.

Illinois Fire College underway at U. of I.

A drive to bring "Operation Edith" alive throughout Illinois will be launched at the 48th annual Illinois Fire College today through Sunday at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

Chief W. J. Eckert, head, Firemanship Training, U. of I. Division of University Extension, said "Operation Edith" is short for "Exit Drill in The Home" will be explained to more than 400 paid and volunteer firemen from Illinois departments in a general session at 8:30 a.m., Saturday.

The goal is a statewide drill Oct. 9, during National Fire Prevention Week. Spearheading the drive, begun last year but now going into "the action phase," are Chief Willard Ashby, Champaign, and Chief Robert Hamm, Decatur.

The 48th annual Illinois Fire College—oldest such educational program in the nation—includes general sessions, workshops, classes and spectacular demonstrations.

Chief Fire Marshal Curtis W. Volkamer, Chicago, past president of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, gave the keynote address, "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," at 10 a.m. today.

Sharing the platform will be Bernard J. Sadowski, Illinois state fire marshal, and Robert May, former Illinois state fire marshal and now assistant to the state director of law enforcement.

Dean Stanley C. Robinson, U. of I. Division of University Extension, will welcome the group for the university.

Others will be presidents of fire service organizations—Thomas Beaudik, Springfield, Associated Firefighters of Illinois; Lynn Ray, Rockford, Illinois Fireman's Association; John Bulow, Oak Lawn, Illinois Professional Firefighter's Association; Glen W. Ayers, Rock Island, Illinois Fire Chiefs Association; and Kenneth L. Long, Godfrey, Illinois Association of Fire Protection Districts and John L. Peterson, Sugar Grove, chairman, Illinois Fire Protection Personnel Standards and Education Commission.

Speakers at other general sessions will be Gary McCoy, Springfield, director of the Standards and Education Commission, "International Fire Service Training Association" and Capt. James R. Spolar, Lyons, "Underwater Recovery

MR. AND MRS. BRADFORD PULASKI They were united in marriage in a ceremony at the First United Methodist Church in Wood River. She is the former Miss Cynthia Thatcher, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Thatcher of Wood River.

Cynthia Thatcher and Bradford Pulaski wed

The First United Methodist Church in Wood River was the scene of the May 26 wedding of Miss Cynthia Jane Thatcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Thatcher, 538 Metzger Ave., Wood River, and Sergeant Bradford L. Pulaski, U.S. Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Pulaski, 3241 Colgate Place.

The Rev. Boyd Wagner officiated at the 1:30 p.m. double ring ceremony. Miss Karen Daniel, organist, accompanied Miss Nancy McMillan, guitarist and soloist, and Miss Jan Myers, soloist, who sang "Bridge Over Troubled Waters," "The Wedding Song," "He'll and 'Lick at the Two of Us."

Mr. Thatcher escorted his daughter down the aisle and gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white organza over taffeta, made with an Empire bodice, stand up collar and long sheer puffed sleeves.

A panel of Nottingham lace in the front bodice and A-line skirt and also highlighted the chapel-length train. A matching camelot headpiece secured a cathedral-length veil, edged in Nottingham lace, and she carried a cascade of orchid and white carnations and crystal mums.

Mrs. Rodney Harrison of Wood River, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Miller of Alton and Miss Linda Mullens of St. Charles, Mo.

The attendants chose identical gowns of orchid dotted voile over taffeta, featuring an Empire waist, low round neckline and short puffed sleeves. A white voile bow, sash and streamers and an A-line skirt, bordered with a deep tulle, accented their dresses.

The bride wore a white straw picture hat trimmed with orchid ribbon and carried baskets of orchid carnations and white, pink and yellow daisy point poms with statice.

Jeffrey Pulaski, brother to the groom, was best man, serving with Bill Pisel and Don Robertson as groomsmen. Larry Thatcher and Rodney Harrison, brother and brother-in-law of the bride, ushered the guests.

Mrs. Thatcher, mother of the bride, selected an off-white shirtdress with a pleated skirt and multi-colored jacket. Mrs. Pulaski, mother of the groom, chose a pink double knit dress with a pink and white coat ensemble. Both mothers wore white accessories and matching cymbidium orchid corsages.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the ballroom of the church. Mrs. Paul Schmidt, Miss Mary Northern, Miss Marilyn Moeller, Miss Debbie Johns and Miss Barbara Elbow, all of Wood River, assisted in serving.

Parents of the groom entertained members of the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner given at Charlie's Restaurant.

The bride is a 1969 graduate of East Alton-Wood River Community High School and a 1972 graduate of St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing in St. Louis. She presently is employed as a registered nurse in the Pediatrics Department of the Fort Walton Beach Hospital, Fla.

Mr. Pulaski is a 1968 graduate of Granite City High School and attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for two years, before enlisting in the Air Force. He is stationed at Hurlburt Field, Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., as an instrument trainer specialist.

After a wedding trip to Central Florida, including Disney World, the newly married couple will reside at 307 Friar Tuck Road, Mary Esther, Fla.

Mrs. Gracey heads secretaries

Mrs. Sally Gracey was installed with her corps of officers who will serve during the 1979-74 year of the Tri-City Chapter of National Secretaries Association, Inc. at an installation dinner meeting at Charlie's Restaurant.

Serving as installing officer was Mrs. Helen Gieszelmann, a past president of the chapter. Other officers include: A. J. Smith, vice-president; Mary Ann Johnson, corresponding secretary; Joanne Kowalski and Lavesta Russell will serve as board members.

Miss Twila Edmonds, the retiring president, presided at a business meeting and announced a Leadership Clinic will be held in Decatur, Ill., on Aug. 18, with several members to attend.

After the installation, committee reports were given and a full report on the Illinois Division meeting was reviewed by Mrs. Gracey. She informed the members that there are now 30,494 members of the Illinois Division of NSA.

Miss Edmonds introduced a guest, Mrs. Iolaine Parkinson of Harrisburg, Ill. She also announced there will be no July meeting, but anyone who is interested in attending the activities on Aug. 2 are to contact

2 physics workshops offered at U. of I.

The physics department at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is sponsoring two workshops this summer, both of which offer graduate credit. An introductory Physical Sciences Workshop will open Tuesday and run for eight weeks. Available for five hours of graduate credit and listed as Science and Technology 415, it will meet from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Fred Zurhede will be in charge. Designed for junior high school curricula, the workshop is open to teachers who need to upgrade their skills. Thomas O. Baldwin, chairman of the SIUE physics department, said. All materials to be used have been developed by the National Science Foundation. This type of workshop was held at SIUE for the first time last summer.

Meeting Monday through Friday from 1 to 5 p.m. in Science Laboratory 1215. SIUE's first workshop for elementary physics teachers will be held from Tuesday to July 3. This workshop will concentrate on elementary scientific curricular materials based on the step-by-step learning process, according to Baldwin, "with the hope that the school system will implement these curricula in the near future. It is designed for teachers with little or no experience in teaching physical science and its purpose is to permit students to have direct hands-on experience in doing science projects. The emphasis is on the scientific process as opposed to simply a collection of scientific facts."

Baldwin and Zurhede will be in charge of the workshop for elementary physics. (Science and Technology 412), which can be taken for four hours of graduate credit. Persons interested in graduate credit must first be admitted to the Graduate School. Baldwin said. Registration for the workshops will take place on the opening day or during the regular registration period today.

GC budgets 1973 revenue funds for public safety

The Granite City Council in a special meeting Monday night budgeted $281,133 in federal revenue sharing funds for "public safety" purposes, a category under which the money eventually could be used for construction of new police and fire stations.

Earmarking the money for such purpose was approved by a 11 to 3 roll call vote after a lengthy discussion in which some aldermen maintained that stormwater drainage is the city's principal problem and $773,464 the total amount of federal revenue sharing funds received by Granite City since the last year.

Rutledge said $612,330 of the funds are invested in U. S. Treasury bills and will draw an initial interest payment of approximately $6,000 on July 1.

Voting against the proposal to place this year's funds in a public safety budget were Aldermen Emerald Dawes, Ronald Coleman and R. E. Robertson, all of whom insisted that drainage problems be given first priority for use of revenue sharing monies.

The move to set the money aside for construction of a new police station and a new Namooki fire house was led by Aldermen Sam Whittier, Gerald Parmley and Clyde Boyd. They were joined by other aldermen in arguments that revenue sharing funds should be used for projects that will benefit the entire city, rather than ward projects.

The council acted on a motion by Boyd that the money be designated for public safety purposes and that a meeting be held later to determine specific projects for its use.

Those voting in favor of the motion were Boyd, Whittier, Parmley, Frank Greenwald, Everett Morlen, William Dallas, Roy Poulos, Walter Nomm, Steve Basarich, Claude Green and Earl Baker.

Parmley said that $281,133 would be "only a drop in the bucket" in planning drainage improvements, and that the only answer to drainage problems is a bond issue that would provide sufficient funds.

Madison Rotary told of district events

Group sessions designed to better acquaint Rotarians with their club responsibilities highlighted the District 646 Rotary meeting held last week in Jacksonville, Ill.

Madison Rotary Club President Jerry Maera and Fred Schmidt, club secretary, reviewed the conference events with the Madison Rotarians at the Wednesday noon meeting in the Madison Recreation Center.

Wayne Scannell, chairman of the program for installation of officers at 6:30 p.m. June 20 at Riedel's Restaurant on Route 150, asked the 23 Rotarians present to make a special effort to attend the event.

Levee District wins court fight on sewer repair

The East Side Levee and Sanitary District was ordered in a circuit court ruling at Belleville Tuesday to begin immediate repair of broken sewer lines at Cahokia at levee district expense.

The ruling came as Circuit Judge Richard T. Carter dismissed a suit by the village of Cahokia to restrain the levee district from working on the broken lines. The village sought the injunction on grounds that the levee district had permitted the sanitary sewer lines to break down and raw sewage to pour into open ditches.

The village wanted to repair the lines, but William B. Starnes, levee district attorney, told the court that if an injunction were issued to prevent the levee district from repairing its own lines, it would be tantamount to the city of Belleville obtaining court authority to repair streets in East St. Louis.

A hearing on the injunction suit Tuesday afternoon followed a levee district meeting in the Granite City office at 4 p.m. Monday, when the three St. Clair County trustees and the two Madison County trustees voted to advertise for bids to clean and inspect sewer trunk lines in Cahokia and making the necessary repairs.

The board also accepted a report of damage to its sewer lines by recent flooding. The survey, made by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, estimated total damage to levee district sewer lines at approximately $1 million.

William "Mike" Ebersoldt of Venice, a Madison County member of the board who has been appointed as levee district agent to handle district claims for flood disaster funds, has estimated sewer line damage at near the $2 million mark.

Illinois Power asks rehearing on rates

Illinois Power Co. is asking a rehearing and reconsideration of the Illinois Commerce Commission order May 16, which allowed an increase in electric rates, Wendell J. Kelley, president of the company, has announced.

He said if relief is not granted promptly, the company will have no alternative but to file a new rate proceeding at an early date.

The rate increase granted by the ICC provided the additional revenues essential to the company's financial needs, Kelley said, adding that the increase does not take into account the depreciation in return caused by the rapid expansion of the utility's plant.

Illinois Power's Baldwin No. 2 unit began commercial operation five days after the rate order was issued, he pointed out, adding approximately $100,000, 90¢ in-service point.

The ICC allowed new rates which would produce approximately an $8,700,000 annual increase in electric revenues based on 1972 usage. The company had requested $4,367 on that basis. The commission allowed a 7.82% rate of return on an original cost base.

ICC recent decisions using an original cost basis in determining rate have had an adverse effect on Illinois utilities, Kelley said, and the rehearing petition challenges this concept.

Until recently, Illinois rate cases have been decided on a fair value rate base. Earlier this year the commission in deciding a Central Illinois Public Service Co. case, reverted to an original cost base, and has followed that pattern since. That was the first such rate determination since a Supreme Court decision setting fair value as a proper rate base more than 20 years ago, company officials said.

Lifesaving course at Y on Friday

Mary Ann Abramovich wed in afternoon ceremony

Fresh summer blossoms in tall white urns decorated the altar at Sacred Heart Catholic Church for the afternoon wedding on June 9 of Miss Mary Ann Abramovich, a daughter of Mrs. Catherine Abramovich, 2904 State St., and David Edward Gensert, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gensert, 9851 Lawnview Drive, St. Louis.

Preceding the arrival of the wedding party, John Stanfill sang "Sunrise, Sunset," "Wedding Song," "Where Charity and Love Prevail" and "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Margaret Crasshaw.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock was the Rev. Daniel Flynn. Danny and Eddie Sedel, cousins of the bride, served as altar boys.

The bride was escorted down the aisle and given in marriage by her uncle, Anthony Pogorelec. She wore a bridal gown designed with a Venice lace bodice and an A-line skirt of organza over tulle.

The gown was fashioned with a high neckline of lace and long sheer organza sleeves, cuffed with matching lace that also formed the fitted cuffs. A very wide Venice lace ruff accented the neckline of the skirt.

She chose a crown headpiece of Venice lace to hold in place her mantilla veil edged with a decorative band of lace and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and white carnations, encircled with greenery and festooned with long white satin streamers.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Barbara Stout, and bridesmaids, Miss Carol Pogorelec, a cousin of the bride, Miss Ginger Kriesch and Miss Carol Dombrowsky, were groomed in identically styled dresses of chiffon over tulle, creating a rainbow effect in the colors of apricot, mint, lilac and aqua.

Their gowns were made with high necklines, long sleeves and Empire waists. A fragile lace marked a V design on the front and back bodice, edged the collar and formed the fitted cuffs.

Each attendant wore a white picture hat enlivened with a satin ribbon in a shade to match her frock. Their bouquets were a mixture of various colored summer flowers.

Jeff Just attended the groom as best man. Michael Gensert, a brother of the groom, Dr. Tim Stout, Joseph Mueller and Charles Grba and Charles Pogorelec, both cousins of the bride, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Mrs. Abramovich selected a street-length dress of aqua double knit with sheer sleeves, complemented with white accessories.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Gensert, chose a street-length frock and a suit ensemble in pink with matching accessories. Both wore carnation corsages in colors to match their dresses.

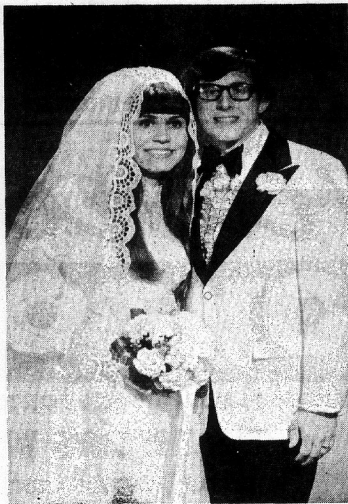

Mr. and Mrs. Gensert, parents of the groom, were hosts at a rehearsal dinner on the evening prior to the wedding at LaRocca Restaurant in St. Louis.

The newly married couple received guests at a reception at 6:30 in the evening at Holy Trinity Hall in Madison. Mrs. Dora Mendenhall assisted.

After a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will reside in Granite City.

A graduate of Granite City High School, the bride received her B.S. degree in mathematics at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She was a mathematics teacher at Griggs Junior High School and began with the fall term with teaching at Granite City High School.

Mr. Gensert was graduated from St. Louis Private Seminary South High School and received a B.S. degree in business at the University of Missouri at St. Louis. He is employed as assistant manager at Walgreen's Drug Store at River Roads Shopping Center, St. Louis County.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID E. GENSTERT. They were married at two o'clock in the afternoon at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Mary Ann Abramovich, a daughter of Mrs. Catherine Abramovich, 2904 State St.

Miss Jayne Dulgeroff marries James Huyser

The wedding of Miss Jayne Kay Dulgeroff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil H. Dulgeroff, 3902 Franklin Ave., and James Edward Huyser of San Diego, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Huyser of Pella, Iowa, was solemnized June 8 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the Nameoki United Methodist Church.

David Long presided at the organ and Mrs. Robert Buckheiser of Wichita, Kan., a cousin of the groom, played two harp selections, "Theme from Love Story" and "Theme from Romeo and Juliet."

The altar was banked with arrangements of white chrysanthemums for the double ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. William Fester, pastor. Mr. Dulgeroff escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. The bride chose an ivory pure silk chiffon gown of Grecian styling.

The high standing collar of seed pearls and bugle beads fitted snugly and the gathered Empire bodice was accented with a wide shirred cummerbund. Bishop sleeves were cuffed with matching jewels. Her full skirt fell softly to the hemline in front and of fullness were draped at the back of the waistline.

A cameo of headpiece of matching beads and chiffon had the cathedral-length veil of chiffon cascading down the back. Her bouquet was of white miniature roses and pompons, entwined with baby breath and encircled with ivy.

Miss Ann Fitzgerald, Denver, Colo., was maid of honor, with Mrs. Walter J. Wood, St. Petersburg Beach, Fla., Miss Joette Everhart, Hachita, N.M., and Miss Babette Zubatsky, New Orleans, La., as bridesmaids. They were attired alike in champagne color mirasheen jersey fashioned with a front bib of multi-color flowers on a sapphire blue background. The neckline was high and the camelot sleeves were shaped in double bell. The long skirt fell softly and the hemline was bordered with the same floral motif on the blue and champagne background. They carried bouquets of white pompons and deep blue cornflowers.

Attending the groom as best man was David Sabin of McKeesport, Pa.

Groomsmen were Patrick Brogan, Los Angeles, Calif., Vincent Klyn, Omaha, Neb., and James Nelson, Houston, Tex., all fraternity brothers of the groom.

Ushers were David G. Dulgeroff, brother of the bride, and Bart Russell.

Mrs. Dulgeroff chose for her daughter's wedding a mint green chiffon floor-length gown, fashioned with long sleeves, tucked bodice and box pleated skirt.

Mrs. Huyser, the bridegroom's mother, wore a silk print organza gown, floor-length, made in shirt waist style with long sleeves. Their corsages were cymbidium orchids.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR NAMED. Dr. Ralph W. Ruffner, left, senior vice-president for planning and review at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has been elected executive director of the Regional Council on Inter-institutional Cooperation. The selection was announced by Dr. Eric N. Rackham, right, president of McKendree College and council chairman.

University Theater to stage four productions

The University Theater at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is preparing for its upcoming summer theater season.

The bill, all of which is being directed by graduate students in theater, includes "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man in the Moon Marigolds," "The Sty of the Blind Pig," "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" and "Company."

Dr. William Vilhauer, director of theater, expressed his feelings about the summer program as follows: "Our basic aim has always been to make the theater program here a rich opportunity-oriented training arena for serious graduate and undergraduate students."

"The decision to turn the summer directing duties over to gifted graduate students is consistent with this basic concept. The graduate student directors will have faculty supervisors who will aid them in the production concepts, but essentially they will be in full charge of all artistic aspects of their shows."

"Other graduate and undergraduate students will handle the acting, design, technical theater, and business management aspects of the summer operation."

Opening the season with performances on July 6, 7, 12, 13, 14 will be Paul Zindel's prize-winning "The Effects of Gamma Rays on Man in the Moon Marigolds," a high impact drama in which four women strive passionately to affirm their individual identity and dignity.

Jan Crow, director of the show, received her undergraduate degree in history education from Washington University and is presently working towards her master's degree with a concentration in directing. In the past year at SIUE she has acted in "The Physicists" and has codirected "Ring Around the Moon." Madeline Egeston will direct Phillip Hayes Dean's "The Sty of the Blind Pig," a powerful enactment of Black life in which the members of a family portray the passions humor and frustrations of those caught up in a past which has forced itself into the present.

Ms. Egeston did her undergraduate work at Harris State College.

Way cleared for filing accreditation guidelines

Copley News Service

Springfield — "Of course we are pleased because this represents a major victory. We can now proceed with filing our guidelines," was the way Richard Small reacted to the action taken by the Illinois House Elementary and Secondary Education Committee.

Small is the director of recognition and supervision at the office of the superintendent of public instruction and a proponent of the new accreditation guidelines.

With a "do not pass" recommendation vote of 12-8, the committee killed a bill that would have extended for one year the deadline for implementing the guidelines.

"I'm also pleased with the action of the committee because passage of the bill would have affected other regulations within the standards such as special education," Small explained.

The guidelines, which must be filed by the OSPI by July 1, 1973, make it mandatory for each of the 1,084 school districts in the state to submit an outline of their specific goals, standards and program plans. After examination, the superintendent's office would use the guidelines to evaluate districts and recommend changes.

These regulations must be filed by January 1, 1974, which is an extension in itself. Original plans called for a deadline of September 1, 1973.

Under fire since its inception, the plan's chief criticism is a lack of time to comply. The extension bill's sponsor, State Representative Donald Totten, R-Holman Estates, said school districts need more time to develop the goals.

Library bookmobile visits continuing

The Granite City Public Library bookmobile will be open from 9 a.m. to noon each week day tomorrow and next week. Tomorrow the bookmobile will be at Nameoki School. Monday it will be at St. Elizabeth School, Tuesday at Washington School, Wednesday at Marshall School, Thursday at Frohardt School and Friday will return to Nameoki School.

Huffman quits post as Illinois Criminologist

Copley News Service
Springfield — A veteran Illinois criminologist who says the state no longer controls its own fate has resigned from his post as state department of corrections.

Arthur V. Huffman, who has had 36 years experience in the field, said that while he will leave the Illinois corrections department June 15, he "definitely" expects to remain in the field of criminal justice in the future.

Huffman, an internationally recognized authority in the field, says the loss of control is of unique to Illinois, but has happened at every maximum security prison in the country.

Whatever the reasons for loss of control within the institutions, Huffman says, control must be regained, and cannot be surrendered either to inmates or to any civilian special interest faction.

Further, he says, leadership and control can only be regained from the top.

Huffman, 61, got his first experience in the general field of institutionalization in 1929, when he was only 18 and had just graduated from high school in Lincoln, Ill.

He went to work for $45 a month at the Lincoln State school, a state facility for the retarded, and attended Lincoln Junior College at night. He later served as clinical psychologist at Lincoln.

Subsequently he earned a bachelor's degree from McConde College in Lebanon, Ill., and a master's degree in sociology from the University of Illinois.

For seven years he served as an advisor to the Afghan King while working with the royal Afghan ministry of education in Kabul, Afghanistan. While in Afghanistan, he helped establish the first U. S. legation there.

In 1973, he presented a paper, "Violent Behavior: The Possibility of Prediction and Control" at the International Association of Corrective Medicine in Vienna, Austria.

In this same area of work, he and a panel of international medical-correctional authorities are now preparing to evaluate a bank of data compiled, at Huffman's instigation, from an EEG laboratory set up at the Joliet-Stateville correctional facility, seeking to learn if there are recognizable brain wave patterns which can be associated with certain types of criminal activity.

Unlike some in the field today, Huffman says he doesn't agree that "all the prison walls must come down." There are persons whose behavior makes it unsafe to have them in less than maximum security and presently not enough is known about rehabilitation to assume they could be given treatment which would make their release safe—such persons as Richard Speck, for example.

He agrees that abolishment of the death penalty was a good decision, and adds that "The measure of a people, a society or a culture is how it handles and treats its captives—those in its prisons, its mental institutions, and the geriatric patients in so-called 'sheltered care' facilities. Sadly, I think contemporary America will not be judged kindly by history."

In Illinois, Huffman has been active in initial steps toward setting up four community-based correctional resource centers, minimum security facilities located in communities where work, educational facilities, and medical and other professional services were available.

In recent months the status of that program has varied and Huffman says that "though as far as I know I'm still chair-

State Senate passes tax bill on minerals

The Illinois Senate has passed and sent to Gov. Daniel Walker legislation (House Bill 138) that would alter the collection of sales tax on minerals to the benefit of downstate counties where they are mined.

Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, who supported the measure has urged citizens to write Governor Walker urging he sign the legislation.

The bill, which passed the House of Representatives, was approved in the Senate by a vote of 32-14 on Thursday.

Senator Vadalabene commented: "Under present law the sales tax collected on minerals extracted in Illinois is collected at the place of sale, which is primarily in Chicago where most large mineral companies have corporate headquarters.

"This bill changes the law, providing that the sales tax be collected in the county where the substances are mined.

"Enactment of the legislation would shift some $4 million in sales tax collection from Chicago to downstate counties where the money rightfully should be collected.

"This money is the local share of the sales tax (one cent). I urge constituents of the 58th District to write the governor indicating their desire be

POLLUTION VARIANCE
Kelley Tar & Chemical Corporation, a corporation of Illinois,
County has filed with the Environmental Protection Agency and the Pollution Control Board
a Petition for a Variance. Title
IX of the Environmental Protection Act provides that individual variances upon proof by the petitioner that compliance with specific Federal regulations and/or Board options would impose upon the petitioner an unreasonable hardship. The petitioner alleges that compliance with the regulations and/or Board options would impose an unreasonable hardship. The petitioner seeks a variance to operate its distillation process until March 1974, which time it will have stalled a waste gas burner to bring its facility into compliance with the existing carbon monoxide standards.
The Environmental Protection Agency solicits views of persons who might be adversely affected by the granting of the variance. All written comments should be filed with the Pollution Control Board. Inquiries should be addressed to:

Carla Beshears becomes Mrs. Robert E. Burns

Burning tapers in aisle candles, festooned with greenery and pink satin ribbons, illuminated the sanctuary of St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Collinsville for the June 8 wedding of Miss Carla Jean Beshears and Robert Edwards Burns.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Beshears, 1108 West Clay St., Collinsville. Mr. Burns is a son of Mrs. Sally Burns of Collinsville and Bill Burns of Granite City.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening was the Rev. Michael Kuse.

Mrs. Peggy Marlin, soloist sang "Sometimes," "There Is Love" and "Come Share My Life," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Bonnie Krupp. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown fashioned of ivory satin, pearl organza designed with an Empire bodice trimmed with dainty Cluny lace and pink silk rose buds. The trimming was repeated at the high neckline and on the short baby doll puffed sleeves.

Pink tulle encircled the high rise waistline and the decorative Cluny lace and rose buds formed rows on the front of the long skirt and bordered the hemline, extending into the full sweep train.

She wore a lace headpiece to secure a melody-length veil edged in matching lace and rose bud trim, and she carried a bouquet of pink and white roses with lily of the valley.

Miss Vicki Holland, maid of honor and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Janet Tervyds, Miss Linda Burns, a sister of the groom and Mrs. Mary Suter, were gowned alike in dresses created in a rose pattern print with touches of green leaves on a neutral sheer background.

The V-styled necklines were marked with an ivory Venice lace and the Empire bodices were accented with avocado green ribbon and avocado satin buttons. Matching lace en-lanced the short, puffed sleeves. Their full skirts featured a wide flounce tier around the hemlines, edged in Venice lace. The honor attendant carried a nosegay of pink carnations centered with white roses and long moss green ribbon streamers. Each of the bridesmaids held a nosegay of pink carnations and pink roses, tied with moss green ribbons.

Lisa and Danny Rodriguez, cousins of the bride, served as flower girl and ringbearer. She was dressed in a frock similar in style to those worn by the bridesmaids. She held a miniature nosegay.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Bill Burns Jr., Jack Burns, another brother of the groom, Dennis Lockwood, Rick Wright, Don Caselli, Ken Kosten and Don Sutton completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

After the ceremony about 400 guests attended a reception at the Creational Hall in Madison. Miss Rita Carr assisted in serving.

Mrs. Beshears chose for her daughter's wedding, a full-length gown in a mint green polyester. Matching lace defined the crescent waistline, edged the neckline and formed a fitted band at the wrists of the long chiffon sleeves.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Burns, selected a long coral crepe dress styled along princess lines with a stand-up collar and long chiffon sleeves. Jewel and pearl trim accented the fitted bodice. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Both young people are seniors at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The former Miss Beshears is enrolled in the premedical program with a major in chemistry and psychology. Mr. Burns is majoring in elementary education.

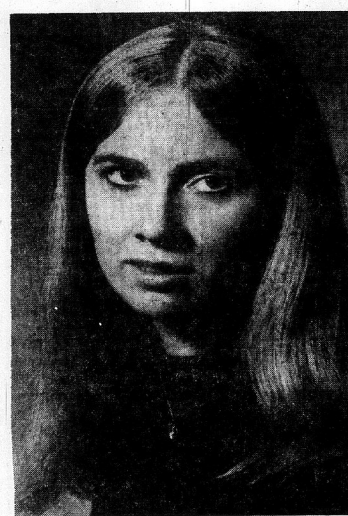

Barbecue fetes Miss Worster

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Worster, 3256 Wabash Ave., were hosts at a barbecue party given on the patio of their home during the weekend honoring their daughter, Kimberly, upon her graduation from Granite City High School.

After the barbecue the group enjoyed games. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Al Hansen of St. Charles, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Al Jannick and son, Greg, St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kazy and son, Ronnie, Mrs. Mary Knowles, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Weir, grandparents of the honoree, and her brother and sister, Kevin and Kellye Worster, all of Granite City.

MRS. ROBERT E. BURNS, the former Miss Carla Jean Beshears, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Beshears, 1108 West Clay St., Collinsville. She was married at St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Collinsville.

MISS CONNIE BENHOFF, a bride-elect. Her betrothal to Fireman Apprentice Steve Jansen, U. S. Navy, is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Benhoff of Breese, Ill. The prospective groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Jansen, 2436 Terminal Ave.

Miss Connie Benhoff to marry

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Benhoff of Breese, Ill., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Connie Benhoff, to Fireman Apprentice Steve Jansen, U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Jansen, 2436 Terminal Ave.

The bride-to-be is a 1973 graduate of Central Community High School in Breese.

Her fiancé is a 1972 graduate of Assumption High School in East St. Louis. He enlisted in the Navy last September and received basic and advanced training at San Diego, Calif.

Community-based juvenile center holds open house

Forcuner of community-based correction facilities in Illinois, the Grant City Youth Development Center near Carbondale, Ill., held an open house during the weekend.

Special guests attending included W. F. "Mick" Strange of Madison, a member of the advisory boards of both the Grant City and Pere Marquette centers; Lynn Unterbrink, superintendent of the seven State of Illinois Youth Development Centers; Dr. John Grenfell, director of the Rehabilitation Institute at SIU at Carbondale; John Castro, program supervisor, and Donald Yost, operations supervisor for the seven centers and Dr. Clyde Vedder, author, criminologist and member of the Governor's advisory board to the Juvenile Division of the Department of Corrections.

More than 300 persons including SIU staff members, members of the Department of Corrections staff and advisory boards, city officials from neighboring communities and parents of the students at the center, visited the facility to gain first-hand knowledge of the program.

For the first half of the 1973-74 fiscal year, the Grant City Center has distinguished itself as being "the least-expensive facility in the state. Cost per capita during this period was $1,627 below the Youth Development Center average.

"The fact that we are operating at less expense to the taxpayer does not reflect a cutting of corners" or limiting pro-

"Our primary objective is to provide experiences that will enable young men to develop into productive citizens. We spare no expense in the process of attaining the goal," he added.

"While I'm on the subject, you might be interested in learning that a fair proportion of your federal tax dollars are returned to us through the Department of Vocational Technical Education and Division of Vocational Rehabilitation for programming.

"We are biased enough to think we have one of the most outstanding, if not the best overall program in the state, but we are also cognizant of the fact that without the many fine community resources open to us we'd be just another juvenile facility."

Less than 5% or seven boys of the 142 young men sent to the Grant City Center that were paroled between January 1970 and July 1972 violated their parole and were returned.

The Department of Corrections research indicated that from January 1971 until December 1972, 17.9% of the young men paroled from the seven centers in 1971 violated parole.

Beginning as forestry camps in 1953, the concept was that youths who are given a break from their environment, along with opportunities for a meaningful experience in the great outdoors, positive adult relationships and hard work, are better prepared to adjust their lives to society. For the past three years the Youth Development

Art schools set next month at Allerton Park

Young artists who will be high school juniors and seniors in September may apply for the 1973 Allerton Park Art Schools, according to Prof. Walter M. Johnson, director, Extension in Visual Arts, University of Illinois Division of University Extension.

Applications are being accepted for all three of the one-week schools—July 15-21, July 22-28 and July 29-Aug. 4.

As in past years, a number of pupils are being sent to the Allerton Park Art Schools on full or partial scholarships from member groups of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs. However, a high school artist no longer has to be sponsored or recommended by a Federated Club to attend.

Enrollment is limited. Those interested should see their school art teachers for enrollment materials, or write to Dr. Walter M. Johnson, Jr., 116 Illinois Hall, Champaign 61820. The tuition and fees, which cover the week's housing, meals, art materials and instruction, are $110 per person. A deposit of $20 is expected with each advance enrollment.

The schools feature concentrated art instruction in painting, drawing, design and 3-D.

All spring workshop participants are eligible for the summer workshop and there is still room for students who did not participate in the spring instruction period to enroll in the program.

The workshop will begin on Saturday and will run for six Saturdays until July 21. Instructions will be from 10 a.m. to noon each Saturday. Interested students are to meet in the basement of the Peck Classroom Building, rooms 0409 and 0408, on Saturday.

There will be no charge for the workshop. More information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Francis Gruber, program chairman, 678-2832.

They are conducted in the scenic setting of Allerton Park, a complex of natural and formal parklands, accented by notable statues and landscaped vistas.

The pupils and counselors stay at Allerton Park, located near Monticello, 21 miles from the U. of I. campus at Urbana-Champaign.

The instructional program, with faculty from the U. of I. Department of Art at Urbana-Champaign, is under Prof. Johnson's direction. The schools are conducted through the Short Courses and Conferences Section, U. of I. Division of University Extension, with Dr. Wilhelm as coordinator. Counselors are from the U. of I. Departments of Art and Recreation at UIUC.

Workshop for tambura to start Saturday

The Slavic and Eastern European Friends of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will sponsor a summer workshop in tambura at SIUE.

The tambura is a stringed instrument that produces a single sound or drone. It normally accompanies other instruments.

All spring workshop participants are eligible for the summer workshop and there is still room for students who did not participate in the spring instruction period to enroll in the program.

The workshop will begin on Saturday and will run for six Saturdays until July 21. Instructions will be from 10 a.m. to noon each Saturday. Interested students are to meet in the basement of the Peck Classroom Building, rooms 0409 and 0408, on Saturday.

There will be no charge for the workshop. More information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Francis Gruber, program chairman, 678-2832.

JOHN PHILIP SOUSA BAND AWARD presented to Gary Loy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Loy, 3212 Harvard Place, a Granite City High School graduate. He plays the cornet and was on the tennis and wrestling teams.

Books being issued for summer quarter

Textbook Service at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville began issuing books today for the summer quarter.

James Oglesby, head of the service which is located in the basement of Lovejoy Library at SIUE, said textbooks can be obtained between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. today and Friday and from 8 a.m. to noon Saturday. The week of June 18, the service will operate between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday and from 8 a.m. to noon Saturday. Summer quarter textbooks can also be picked up between 8 a.m. and 8:30 p.m. June 25 and 26.

THE WORLD OF MUSIC Spooky Tooth makes comeback

By JUDY HUGH
Copley News Service

The pressures of success are not always easy to handle, as the British band Spooky Tooth found out.

Some two years after their initial appearance, the weight of several successful hits began to make them stagger and soon collapse. Members of the band were thrown in all directions, which eventually produced some real sound side effects.

In case you are wondering, Spooky Tooth is not the result of a horrific visit to the dentist or one's first impression of Count Dracula. The spooky tooth is that it's the name of one of the finest second-generation British bands to have emerged and reemerged in the past six years.

It was in 1967 that the first Spooky Tooth album entitled "It's All About" was released, and more recently it was reissued on A&M retitled "To Bacco Road." Even in those early days when audiences were constantly aroused by new sounds, the band made its impression indelibly on those eager ears. At this time they contributed such legendary songs as "Evil Woman" and "Better By You Better Than Me." But the split was inevitable.

Individually the musicians had parted but their music remained. Gary Wright went ahead to record two solo albums as did Mike Harrison. As is often the case within a group of musicians whose individual talents contribute so much to the overall sound their efforts as solo performers are not always as convincing.

So Gary got together with Mike and decided the time was right for Spooky's rebirth. They realized that the lineup would have to be different since in the interim the original members had all pursued solo careers.

There is always something lost and something gained by playing in a different band. Now was the time for Spooky Tooth to gain, and so Wright and Harrison added 18-year-old drummer Bryson Graham and guitarist Mick Jones as well as Chris Stewart on bass guitar to the revised edition of Spooky Tooth.

The first-born of the new Spooky is called "You Broke My Heart So I Busted Your Jaw," on A&M, and is quite the proper offspring of the reformation. Even with the new personnel, the basic Spooky sound is there, unrelenting through fine tracks like "Self-Seeking Man" and "Wildfire."

But what sets it apart from its predecessors is the band's now obvious ability to adapt to the moods of a song. "Times Have Changed" and "Holy Water" are as poignant and unusual ballads as have been recorded in some time, while "Moriah" is equally striking for its harmony.

And "Old As I Was Born" carries with it a sense of unity the group unparpassed in the entire Spooky recorded repertoire. Spooky Tooth has returned because they were needed, and because they deserve the success they didn't allow themselves the first time out. This LP is the finest ever for the band and should bring them many new-found fans.

Paul Humphrey's Supermellow (Blue Thumb Records) — Drummer Humphrey's group, known as The Funky Thumbs, pounds along the rock-jazz route with a lot of frenzy and very little cool. It's that electrical, wah-wah sound that so many small groups think represents musical progress. Maybe it does.

Sibelius, Tchaikovsky, Handel — the first a composer of music of long nights and windswept forests, the second a tormented man who wrote with great poetry and sentimentality, the third a man of cool, classical purity. Bits and pieces of their music are presented in RCA's "Greatest Hits" series. The Sibelius LP ranges from the brooding Finlandia to the Karelia Suite, combining the orchestral talents of Eugene Ormandy and Arthur Fiedler. Van Cliburn plays the first movement of Tchaikovsky's Piano Concerto No. 1 on this LP which also has selections from the Nutcracker Suite and Capriccio Italian. Leontyne Price, Robert Shaw and Beverly Sills are among the artists performing Handel's Hallelujah Chorus, the Water Music and Largo. Good listening in the classical mode.

DEVALUATION

High prices kill import boom

By TOM GABLE
Copley News Service

Remember the jokes about the new 1959 Japanese cars? Remember how the jokes turned to praise six years later as Americans began unloading their $4,000 American-made autos for $900 and driving away, at 35 miles per gallon, in clean, efficient $1,800 cars? The import boom had hit.

Remember the Swiss watches, the French wines, the German turntables, the Hong Kong turkeys, the Danish pipes, the Italian shoes, the Japanese electronics, the Taiwan clock radios, all bought at prices considerably lower than those charged by American competitors?

Remember while you can, because the lower-priced import boom has gone bust. The two dollar devaluations (and the ones to come, according to experts) have changed the pricing game to the detriment of the average consumer.

A random survey of recent price changes in major import categories shows increases ranging from 8 per cent (Hong Kong shirts) to more than 100 per cent (French wines). The dollar devaluations have caused U.S. agricultural products to make American-made products more competitive. They have. You can buy a Ford Pinto or a Chevrolet Vega for less than a Volkswagen or Datsun, but for more than you would have paid just four months ago.

One thing the dollar devaluations did not help was the balance of trade in your wallet. And it will get worse.

The average American consumer is going to be paying more for everything," said Robert J. Oster, economist with Bank of America in Los Angeles. "Recent figures show that the devaluation may have improved the balance of trade. But no matter how you slice it, the consumer gets the higher prices."

Last month, Toyota Motor Sales U.S.A. Inc. increased its prices an average of 10.2 per cent. The Corolla two-door sedan jumped $199 to $2,359, the Corona four-door sedan $245 to $2,679, the Mark II four-door sedan $333 to $3,329 and the half-ton pickup truck jumped $240 to $2,589.

The same month, Nissan Motor Corp., which imports the Datsun, increased its prices an average of 13.7 per cent, or $348 a model.

Since the beginning of the 1971 model year, the price of the average Volkswagen has gone up $419, or 23.5 per cent, according to company figures.

With the U.S. auto makers increasing their prices to preserve profit margins and offset new costs, the choice for the prospective automobile purchaser has been narrowed to buy or not buy, rather than foreign or domestic.

Toyota and Nissan reported sharp declines in shipments to the United States in April.

MONEY SAVERS

The state of Pennsylvania is reducing welfare costs by distributing benefit checks through banks and by computerized auditing.

The musical program will feature French fiddlers, bagpipers, a French folk song "sing along," and appearances by LaGuerne Singers — the Prairie du Rocher singers and Chahokia Singers — perpetuating a tradition dating back to Druid times. Prairie du Rocher is the only town in the United States which has maintained the custom annually for 250 years.

Costumed participants will give an air of authenticity to the recreation of the fort located within its partially restored walls. The event will officially get under way on Friday, June 22, with registration, with Rendezvous events starting at 6 a.m. on June 23. It closes at 4 p.m. on Sunday, June 24.

The old fort is located 35 miles south of East St. Louis in Randolph county.

HOLLYWOOD HOTLINE Things aren't rosy in Eastern Europe

By NANCY ANDERSON
Copley News Service

HOLLYWOOD — Two members of The Fifth Dimension, just back from an international tour in behalf of the State Department, report that things were less than heavenly in that "workers' paradise," Eastern Europe.

However, they enjoyed their junket.

Marilyn McCoo and Ron Townson said housing was at a premium in Communist-controlled countries where, according to Marilyn, racial prejudice also exists.

"I appreciate our own country much more since our tour," Marilyn said. "In Romania I met a black Rhodesian who complained about prejudice and in Czechoslovakia I was told that black and white students aren't allowed to share dormitory rooms."

Marilyn continued: "People I met were amazed to learn that, in our country, only two persons can have a house with four or five rooms."

"We heard of young couples in countries we visited who were married but couldn't live in their own homes because of the housing shortage. Sometimes a husband would continue living with his parents and a wife with hers even after they had a child."

"And," Ron interjected,

"the general economic conditions here are better than those we saw during our tour."

On the other hand, both Ron and Marilyn were vastly impressed by artistic and cultural achievement in Communist countries.

"I think the most exciting day I spent was visiting the Polish state opera house," Ron said. "It's the largest in the world with a stage so big they can set up six scenes at once."

"It has 30 wardrobe rooms like long corridors."

Marilyn was equally excited by her visit to a Romanian theatrical company noting that a director of the state subsidized (and controlled) group will devote his entire career to the study of perhaps 10 plays, totally mastering each, and will consider himself fortunate if he can direct all 10 during his lifetime.

She was a trifle puzzled, though, by the reaction she got at a Turkish university to her enthusiasm for Women's Lib.

"The students thought that Women's Lib was an American problem," she said. "And the girls told me that they didn't think they wanted to give up their privileges in exchange for it."

"They felt that Women's Lib was the outgrowth of a decaying society."

Ron said the American institution he missed most during his travels was a good bed.

"The beds were so small that whenever I turned over I hit the wall," he laughed. "And I missed the ice. In Europe, they don't believe in ice."

Marilyn said that she missed salads most during her junket.

"I had them in the big cities," she said, "but it wasn't safe to eat raw vegetables in the small towns."

"Also, I missed being able to drink the tap water."

The Fifth Dimension waved salaries and gave up domestic engagements to make the tour as a national public service.

"I was asked why the State Department had sent a black group to represent the country," Ron said, "and I explained it was because of our popularity with the age groups we hoped to reach through the tour."

History comes alive at Fort de Chartres

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

PRAIRIE DU ROCHER, Ill. — Two hundred fifty years vanish for a weekend in this isolated section of Illinois each year, when old Fort de Chartres comes alive again in all its pioneer French glory. The fourth annual Fort de Chartres Rendezvous will be held June 23 and 24 at the reconstructed fort, one of the largest colonial fortifications built in the Mississippi frontier area.

Events at the two-day affair, which draws thousands from throughout Illinois and neighboring states, are limited to actual events related to the state's French heritage. Thus, since early French settlers were not allowed to weave their own fabrics, but had to send the raw materials back to France and then purchase finished materials from the mother country, there will be no demonstrations of weaving. It wouldn't have been done in the early 1700s, and it won't be done there in the late 1900s, either.

There will be events not often seen in today's world — flintlock, musket, tomahawk and knife-throwing contests, and a "Seneca run."

There will be tug-of-war in which the visiting public is welcome to participate, as well as French ox cart races for the children, a greased pole contest, roving minstrels and puppet dancers.

There will be trading sessions when no money is permitted to participate, and all transactions must be by barter. There will be life and drum corps, a torchlight parade through nearby Prairie du Rocher, and voyageur canoe races featuring 30-foot canoes over a five-mile course. There will be a French open market, a street dance, and self-guided auto tours through the other historic sites in the area.

Cultural displays — all of valid items or crafts — will include herb displays, wood carving, bread making, candle making, blacksmithing, carpentry, woodworking with an 18th Century lathe, soap making, shoe making, tanning, winemaking and basket making. Authentic tools of the period will be used in a demonstration of ways that powder horns, bowls and spoons were made, and there will be demonstrations of fire starting with flint and steel. Medical instruments of the period will be on display.

ACHIEVERS FROM THE GRANITE CITY JA Business Center participating in the Future Unlimited Banquet at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn. One of the 11 JA companies demonstrating production techniques was JAPO, sponsored by American Steel Foundries. JAPO manufactured a decorative snack server during the evening's activities. This was a brisk seller as the 2,000 persons in attendance at the dinner viewed the production companies before and after the awards ceremonies. Viewing JAPO's production line are, far right, left to right, Alicia Hendrickson, Madison High graduate who spoke for all Achievers to the persons in attendance at the banquet; Steve Rudolph and Vaden Sharp, Granite City High School graduate who received JA/Spoeher cash scholarships for outstanding JA records.

Junior Achievement's top honors go to local JA firms

Junior Achievement of Mississippi Valley annually closes out the 30-week program year with the Future Unlimited Banquet. A number of JA's top winners for 1972-73 went to companies and Achievers from the Granite City Business Center.

One of the two top awards given each year in Junior Achievement is the "Best Night" plaque which was presented this year to Granite City Steel Co. "Best Night" judging is on the basis of overall excellence of all the companies conducted by one firm on one night.

Granite City Steel sponsored four companies at the Granite City JA Center. All topped the $1,000 sales mark.

Five of the 12 production companies meeting weekly in Granite City were honored for excellence. Only 46 of the 272 small corporations in the metro area were so honored.

An award for "Best in Center" went to B. Q. Smokers, sponsored by Granite City Steel Co. This company also led all JA companies in sales with a total of $3,788 worth of barbecue grills marketed to Quab City customers.

"First in Food Products" honors went to Japo, counseled by American Steel Foundries.

Ampco received the "First in Electrical Products" award. Illinois Power Co. sponsored Ampco. Business then and women volunteered their time to serve as advisers to the 272 teen-run companies during the 30-week program year.

Impressive statistics recently were published concerning the 12 JA manufacturing companies and 1 full-service bank sponsored by First Granite City National Bank which met at the Granite City Center. A total of 7,500 product units were manufactured by JA members with sales totaling $17,750 for the year. Nine of the companies surpassed the $1,000 sales mark. Ten of the 13 companies returned a 10% dividend to their stockholders. Almost 400 members manufactured and sold more than $210,000 worth of $5,300 in wages, salaries and commissions. They Achievers were from 106 high schools in the metro area and seven smaller communities in Missouri and Illinois. Eighty-five corporations provided teams of business men and women to advise the small JA companies.

Alicia Hendrickson, 1973 Madison High School graduate, was one of the three Achievers who addressed the businessmen and JA members at the Future Unlimited Banquet.

Vincent Lohmann was honored for 10 years as a JA Adviser in ceremonies at the awards dinner. He is an American Steel Foundries employee. More than 700 business men and women volunteered their time to serve as advisers to the 272 teen-run companies during the 30-week program year.

New medical school to open at Carbondale

Downtown Illinois' only medical school becomes a functioning reality Friday when the 48 members of the Southern Illinois University at Carbondale School of Medicine's charter class begin their formal orientation procedures on the SIUC campus.

The event, occurs nearly five years from the date of the Campbell Commission Report calling for new approaches in medical education which would produce more physicians for downstate communities as substitution for savings in time and money.

At that time, SIUC was charged with developing a unique three-year M.D. program utilizing existing facilities on the university's campus in Carbondale and community hospitals and physicians in Springfield and Carbondale.

Richard H. Moy, dean of the medical school, will officially welcome the students at a ceremony beginning at 11 a.m. in Ballroom "B" of the SIUC Student Center, Willis Malone, executive vice-president and provost of the university, will substitute for SIUC President David R. Derge in welcoming the students on behalf of the university.

Derge will be leading a group of American collegiate basketball players on a tour of the People's Republic of China.

Dr. Glen R. Leymaster, director of undergraduate medical education of the American Medical Association, will deliver the principal address. Leymaster is a member of the liaison committee on medical education which granted accreditation to the medical school last November.

In keeping with the School of Medicine's intent to provide more physicians for the state, all of the students are residents of Illinois. The overwhelming majority of the group is from central and southern Illinois, and most of them are residents of the state's less populous counties.

The historic group will receive formal orientation into the medical school's innovative cur-

SIUE holds ceramic workshop for potters

A ceramic workshop in Raku and Indian firing is being conducted at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Norman Schulman, chairman of the ceramics department at Rhode Island School of Design, will be a visiting artist during the workshop and will demonstrate wall-within-wall construction.

The workshop is for potters of intermediate skills and enrollment is limited to 20.

The Raku firing system originated in Japan. Pots are pulled from the kiln while still red hot and are then smothered in hay or straw which is covered by an oil drum. The smothering reduces the metallic oxides in the pottery and results in a metallic finish.

Indian firing is done on coals heated to about 1,000 degrees. The red-hot pots are buried in manure to cool quickly.

John W. Cannon, associate professor of art and design at SIUE, said the workshop will emphasize basic concepts in pottery.

Correspondence schools require state approval

By MARY LOU MANNING
Copley News Service

Springfield — Celestial navigation, glove-making, pearls, meat packing, cartooning, piano tuning. All these have one thing in common: they're subjects offered through home correspondence schools, and they're accredited by the National Home Study Council.

On a statewide basis, there's also an agency concerned with the regulation of these schools. The Private Business and Vocational Education Unit within the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction has the responsibility to approve all correspondence schools doing business in the state.

"We approve, not accredit these schools," explained Tom Richardson, director of the unit which is part of the Department of Recognition and Supervision.

State law requires all private business and vocational schools doing business in Illinois to apply for approval to the OSPI.

An application is approved once but renewal is mandatory each year and a certificate of approval must be displayed at the place of business. The superintendent also has the power to revoke an approval.

Approval is made through a series of applications which include provisions for a financial report and a surety bond.

One surety bond is issued for $10,000 to insure tuition refunds should a school go out of business, according to Richardson. A blanket bond to cover all agents—anyone leaving school property to solicit applicants—is issued for $1,000 per agent to cover possible tuition refunds.

Approval also is contingent upon the school carrying liability insurance that would cover any occurrence which through its absence, may lead to the closing down of the business.

For example, the insurance would cover the suit of a mailman bitten by a dog while delivering a lesson to a student.

"Graders or instructors employed by the schools are checked to insure they have a four-year combination of experience and/or education in the area they are grading or instructing," the director said. Every facility is visited before approval is granted and, when necessary, a check may be made through the Better Business Bureau, Chamber of Commerce, or other citizen's group as to the reputation of the applicant.

The so-called "fly-by-night" businesses are nabbed quickly partly due to the cooperation and communication between the 35 regulatory offices throughout the country.

"Our best advice is if you see an ad in the newspaper, call our office to see if the school is approved before answering it," said Richardson.

At present, there are 202 correspondence, correspondence-resident and resident schools which have met approval by the state. (A correspondence-resident school offers part of the course by mail and part by actual instruction at the school.) About 20% of all approved schools are located in Illinois, according to Richardson.

Although the main concern of the office is approval, they also handle questions and complaints unless legal action is necessary.

"We are here to provide the public with a service by answering questions and complaints, but we won't offer advice or rate a school," Richardson inserted. "We will just give someone the facts and tell them to make up their own minds."

Rule Bernard Caruso death accidental

A coroner's jury has ruled the death of Bernard B. Caruso, 55, of Rural Route One, Granite City, accidental, it was announced this week.

The jury ruled the cause of death as "severe injuries to the head due to an explosion caused by burning ends of barrels with a torch."

Mr. Caruso was cutting lids from 55-gallon steel drums when one drum exploded throwing him backwards and he reportedly struck his head on an iron welding table.

The acetylene torch he was using apparently ignited fumes in the drum.

CENTSIBLE SHOPPING

Summer furniture must be durable

By JOYCE ROARK
Copley News Service

Summer is the season for outdoor living. The furniture we choose for the patio or lawn must be able to withstand the sun and rain of summer and still retain its beauty.

One item commonly chosen for use in the yard is an umbrella. The least expensive is painted cotton canvas. The bright designs are an acrylic base paint that is water repellent and resists fading.

Another material used in lawn umbrellas is vinyl-coated canvas. It's usually found in pastel colors but it's easy to clean. It's longer lasting and more expensive than the painted cotton.

Plain cotton canvas that has the design woven into the fabric is still more expensive. Woven acrylic canvas is like cotton but will resist mildew. This one is more expensive, still, but it's exceptionally durable.

A new type of umbrella is made by laminating vinyl to both sides of a fabric such as nylon or polyester. This type is recognized by its slightly translucent appearance. It's cost is about the same as vinyl-coated canvas umbrellas.

To clean umbrellas, wipe with a sponge or soft brush. Tears should be mended by gluing a small patch of fabric over the fabric on the top side. (Vinyl-based awning cement is most effective on vinyl fabrics.) Pinholes in vinyl can be repaired with a special vinyl paint that is available from the manufacturer.

Color and water repellency of painted canvas can be restored by repainting with an acrylic paint.

If recovering is necessary, see your dealer. You can replace the umbrella fabric at a reasonable cost that is less than a new umbrella.

Outdoor furniture is of two types — upholstered cushions and webbed. Upholstered cushions should have an urethane foam filling and a heavy-duty, supported vinyl fabric covering. This type is most durable and can be left out in the rain without damage.

Some cushions found on redwood and rattan furniture have a heavy-duty cotton covering. This fabric doesn't resist mildew or sun-rotting like vinyl.

All padded cushions should have welled seams for longest wear. Welled seams are characterized by a cord. Sponging with a sudsy water solution or a weak bleach solution is all that is needed to keep vinyl clean and pretty. Never use abrasive scouring pads. They could mar the surface.

Cleaning cotton fabrics is more difficult but not impossible. If the fabric has a soil-resistant finish and the filling is urethane, soap and water should do the job. Prop up the cushions to dry.

It's possible to find some cushions with a polyester filling. This is probably better than the urethane but they will be more expensive.

Webbed chairs and chaises differ in quality by the way they have been webbed. Look for a close network of firmly attached strips. The more strips, the sturdier the webbing will be.

Cleaning is difficult with a cloth. Use a vegetable brush and plenty of soap and water, rise with a hose or under the shower. If a strip of webbing breaks, replace it with new webbing available wherever outdoor-furniture is sold.

THINK PRETTY

Her face can match the sun

By PEGGY WALKER
Copley News Service

Georg Moore was giving makeup lessons on how to be beautiful in 12 easy steps — give or take a few.

"I'm going to put at least five layers of cosmetics on your skin — but when I'm through you won't feel a thing," said Moore, makeup director, western division, for Germaine Monteil Cosmetics Corp.

With that he dug into an assortment of jars, tubes, bottles and facecups, explaining that the trend in cosmetics for summer is toward sheer, lightweight, "whipped" creams that blend in color and moisturize at the same time. Moore calls them "sun glisters." The colors are vibrant with high intensity shine to reflect the sun.

"The secret is to use everything sparingly and to blend well so that you get full coverage without wasting makeup."

He begins with a cleanser containing vitamins A, D and E and wheat germ oil. Moore, for one, said he is against using vitamin E straight out of the capsule on the skin.

"My observations — just from watching the returns — are that some women are allergic to full-strength, and it can cause a rash." The makeup director smooths on the cleanser with sweeping strokes then takes it off with a warm lerry cloth towel.

"Don't use tissues," he advised. "Remember, they're made from wood pulp. They can break capillaries."

Next comes cream toner, something new in place of the usual liquid toners, then a filmy layer of "line smoothing formula."

Layer four — "instant pore minimizer." Use it only where pores are enlarged, it helps reduce them, said Moore.

Step five is a thin film of something called "Bio-miracle Lotion," with a government seal on the bottle. "That's because it contains biotene, the active ingredient which penetrates the seven layers of skin to firm the first and newest layer," Moore explained.

Step six and seven are moisturizer — just a smidgeon's worth — and "moisture makeup," almost as frothy as beaten egg whites.

Already Moore has exceeded his "five" layers, but there is no heaviness, no pancake texture and no greasiness.

He continues with what he calls "instant health," a "souffle" cheek accent. "Use it to frame the eyes, keep the color up on the cheekbone, not down," he advised.

"The moisture content helps moisturize the cheeks which tend to be dry in summer."

Step nine is optional — powder to "set" the look, but the makeup director likes the wet glister better for summer.

Steps 10-11 are eye play. Three tones of blue eye shadow, optional eyeliner and a light extension of the brow with a soft brown brush-on powder.

And the final touch — lipstick, a bright, semi-transparent red.

Thirty minutes and 12 layers later Moore has produced a natural, glistening look that is amazingly light despite the assortment of products. Moral: it's the quality not the quantity that counts in a smooth made-up look.

Philip N. Ross, manager of power systems planning for Westinghouse Electric Corp., says nuclear breeder reactors offer some 1,500 times the energy available from today's total nuclear fuel sources.

ANCIENT FIND

Archaeologists believe the medieval wall uncovered by Westinghouse developing a park in the center of Gloucester is part of a medieval abbey which stood on the city outskirts some 900 years ago.

STITCHING WITCHERY

Good scissors a must for sewing

By BETTY W. KINSEY
Copley News Service

Today is "what's-new-in-scissors" day. The following is a quick run-down of some of the useful new shears that have struck my fancy. I think you'll be pleased with them.

From Wiss: Knife Edge shears for cutting miracle fabrics. Acrylic, double knit, polyester and bondels slip like a breeze through the extra sharp blades of these new shears. They come either seven-inch or eight-inch. New Hardened Pinking Shears that are designed to cut through double knits and other miracle fabrics.

From Belding-Corticelli: Four "special skills" scissors. ... Eight-inch Shears with extra sharp blades for the new fabrics. ... Serrated Edge for gripping fabrics that slip.

Thread Clip with long, slender, sharp points suited for needlepoint, crewel or other hand work. Pinking Shears with 9-inch blade.

Don't forget. Good scissors are a must for sewing.

Do you have any ideas or suggestions on trimming dresses so they look more professional? — Mrs. Albert Dohse, Gretna, Neb.

Professional? — Mrs. Albert Dohse, Gretna, Neb.

Your request sent me running to my files to see what I could find in the way of trim ideas and, what to my wondering eyes should appear but a super idea book put out by Wrights. A letter to them brought this reply: "We would be happy to process any requests for our Idea Book."

So, taking them at their word. ... For your 63-page book of super trim ideas, plus a "bonus book" insert, send 50 cents and your name and address to Wrights, Dept. SW 73, West Warren, Mass. 01922.

Psst! It's worth the 50 cents just to get a look at what you can do with one sweat shirt! ... For example, a halter top, bikini pants and a miniskirt.

QUICK STITCH: I had to do a ball-point ink stain with hair spray the other day and it occurred to me (as I watched it work its miracle) that some of our new readers may not know about this dandy hint.

Just soak the ink spot with hair spray. Let dry. Launder. Presto! No more stain.

COOKING CORNER

Foods for parties should be just as impressive as the occasions which inspire them. An easy-to-make dessert with an European air can be made quickly and easily with biscuit mix, canned apple sauce and cream. It is Panecake Apple Torte.

The flat cakes are put together with run-flavored whipped cream and applesauce. It is completed with a whipped cream topping decorated with chocolate sprinkles or curls.

The elegant Crab Popovers can take top billing at a luncheon or supper party. They can be accompanied by gelatin-topped melon wedges and fresh or frozen buttered asparagus.

The melon wedges can be made by cutting a melon in half and pouring cooled gelatin into the hollow. After the gelatin is set, cut into gelatin-wedges.

PANCAKE APPLE TORTE

Pancakes
1 cup canned apple sauce
2 cups biscuit mix
2 eggs
1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk
1 1/4 cups water

Combine the apple sauce with biscuit mix, eggs, dry milk and water and beat until smooth. If an electric skillet is used, set at 375 degrees and do not grease. If a top-of-the-range skillet is used, place over medium heat and grease lightly. Pour one-third cup batter into heated skillet for each pancake. When bottom side of pancake browns (bubbles in batter burst and surface of pancake looks slightly dry), turn and allow second side to lightly brown. Cool on cake rack. Makes 12 pancakes.

Fillings
1 1/2 pints heavy cream
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon rum flavoring
3 cups canned apple sauce
Chocolate sprinkles — for decoration

Combine cream, sugar and rum flavoring and whip. Reserve one cup. To put torte together, place one pancake on a serving plate. Spread with apple sauce. Top with another pancake and spread with whipped cream. Continue until all pancakes and filling are used. Top with reserved whipped cream and decorate with chocolate sprinkles. Serve immediately or refrigerate several hours or overnight. To serve, cut into small wedges.

ELEGANT CRAB POPOVERS

POPOVERS
11 small or 6 large popovers
2 eggs
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon oil
1 tablespoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash hot pepper sauce
1 cup enriched flour (Note) Crabmeat Sauce

Combine eggs, milk, oil and seasonings. Blend in flour until smooth; beat on electric mixer 1 minute. Fill lightly greased popover pans or custard cups half full. Bake in preheated 450 degree oven 15 minutes, lower oven to 350 and continue baking 20 minutes longer. Split open and serve with Crabmeat Sauce.

Crabmeat Sauce

1 pound (1 qt.) fresh mushrooms
1/4 cup minced onion
1/4 cup finely chopped green pepper
One-third cup butter, melted
1/2 cup dry white wine (or water)
1 cup cream
2 tablespoons enriched flour
2 cans (7 1/2 oz. each) crabmeat, drained
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Dash hot pepper sauce

Wash and slice mushrooms. Cook onion and green pepper in butter until tender; add mushrooms and white wine. Cook covered 10 to 15 minutes. Remove mushrooms from pan and reduce liquid to about one cup. Add cream. Blend in flour. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened. Stir in mushrooms and remaining ingredients; heat through.

(Note) Spoon flour into dry measuring cup; level. Do not scoop.

Napkin rings are decorations

By RIV TOBIN
Copley News Service

Dear Mrs. Tobin: Friends recently sent me a gift of four flowered place mats with matching napkins and four straw napkin rings. I always thought napkin rings were used only when the napkins were to be used by the person at another meal. This table setting is strictly informal and I would use it for an informal luncheon. What use are the straw rings? — Anabel A.

Dear Anabel: I too have seen similar sets. The rings are simply a colorful decoration. Quite properly the guests should not roll his napkin and replace it in the ring but simply lay the napkin by his plate when he is through.

Dear Mrs. Tobin: I have two sons, 15 and 19. They tell me it is passe for sons to dance with their mothers. Is this true? At a wedding reception several other sons danced with their mothers but their sons refused. They danced with other women my age. Please comment. — B.C.S.

Dear B.C.S.: It certainly isn't passe for sons to dance with their mothers. I enjoy dancing with my sons when the occasion arises. Perhaps your sons think their friends will kid them. They won't. Do you dance with your sons' friends? Don't make an issue out of it. Your sons' attitude will change as they mature.

Dear Mrs. Tobin: When an older man takes a woman to a restaurant, who gives the order to the waitress? — A.G.

Dear A.G.: The man gives the order to the waitress — and always to a waiter.

Dear Mrs. Tobin: When dining at an expensive restaurant and you see friends eating at a nearby table, who makes the first move to speak? Is it proper to carry on any conversation until everyone is finished? — Reader in Pa.

Dear Reader: One should never stop at a table when people are eating. The men are obliged to rise and the food gets cold. A "Good evening" is all that is necessary in the way of a greeting. Who makes the first move? It should be spontaneous on both parts.

Dear Mrs. Tobin: Is it proper for a widow to use her deceased husband's name when signing business letters. Should they be signed Mrs. Arthur Doe or Mrs. Janet Doe? Most of my letters come addressed to Mrs. Arthur Doe. — J.D.

Dear J.D.: The letters are addressed correctly. You are Mrs. Arthur Doe until you die or remarry. You should sign letters as Janet Doe and under your signature write, Mrs. Arthur Doe.

Promotions told by SIU trustees at Carbondale

Danilo Orescanin, 41, vice-president for administration and campus resources at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, has been given the additional title of executive vice-president.

Orescanin's appointment was approved Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees.

At the same time, the board elevated Keith Leasure from assistant provost to a one-year appointment as provost and vice-president for academic affairs. The appointments will be effective July 1.

Both positions—executive vice-president for academic affairs—are now held by Willis Malone. His request for relief had been announced last week by SIUC President David R. Derge.

Malone will take leave July 1 to Sept. 30, then return to SIUC as a special assistant to President Derge for planning.

"He then will begin one of the most crucial tasks ever undertaken by SIUC, which involves curriculum changes, study innovations and establishment of overseas study centers," said President Derge.

In other action the board approved the appointment of a new dean of the College of Communications and Fine Arts and a dean of the new College of Human Resources, both effective July 1.

Herbert L. Fink, present chairman of the department of art, was given a one-year appointment to head the College of Communications and Fine Arts. He will replace acting dean Philip Olson, who will begin a six-month leave of absence before returning as professor of music.

New dean of the College of Human Resources is Stanley H. Smith, 47, now dean of Fisk University at Nashville, Tenn., who becomes the first dean of the new college and the first Black dean at SIUC.

Orescanin, a former administrative colleague of Derge at Indiana University, came to SIUC in 1972.

Leasure, 52, has been assistant provost since Aug. 15, filling one of two such positions created in reorganization moves. He was chairman of the SIUC plant industries department from 1968 until his appointment as assistant provost.

88 births, 28 deaths reported during May

A vital statistics report released this week by Robert W. Stevens, clerk of Granite City, showed 88 births and 28 deaths here during May.

The births were the highest number for one month thus far in 1973. Previous monthly totals of births were 79 in January, 73 in February, 86 in March and 74 in April.

The number of deaths was the lowest this year. Previous monthly totals were: January, 47; February, 39; March, 42, and April, 34.

The number of births for the first five months of the year, 391, is a drop from the 424 in the same period of last year. The 190 deaths thus far in 1973 is up from the 178 during the comparable period of 1972.

Three fetal deaths were reported in May, bringing the total for the first five months of the year to seven. Four were reported in the same period of last year.

Alton tricentennial celebration planned

"The Plaza Bird, from Legend and Indian Folklore," a cantata and lyric drama by James R. Smith, will be presented July 4, 5 and 6 in its premier performances during the Tricentennial Celebration of the historic river voyage of Joliet-Marquette, by the Alton Council Inc. with the patronage of the Alton Museum of History and Art Inc.

The Sound and Light Living Experience will be presented at the bluff site of the newly repainted Plaza Bird, at Norman Park near Norman's Landing on the Great River near Alton.

The performances will begin at 9 p.m.; it would be advisable to arrive early at the site with one's own seating and wrap. The July 4 and 5 performances are $2.50 per admission. A special Young People's Night performance will be held July 6 at $1.50 per admission with one young person under the age of 15 years admitted free with each paid admission and supervising adult.

The Alton Museum of History and Art Inc. believes that the legend of the "bird that devours men" told in light and sound will help develop the appreciation of Alton's heritage as well as the link between the past and the present in history and art forms.

Smith, a native Altonian, will direct his original work while performing at the piano and directing the chorus, instrumentalists and organist. The acting chorus of 50 will be seen in tableau performances silhouetted on the bluffs by footlights of live torches. Narration by Glenn Waters will combine music and live performances as powerful lights playing the roles of epic characters of the Plaza Bird Legend illuminate in sequence the gigantic bluff amphitheatre of natural limestone at the river's edge.

Tickets are available from members of non-profit service organizations and at the Greater Alton Association of Commerce or at the Alton Area Visitor Center.

Scout camp opens Sunday; expect 1,200 this year

Camp Sunnen near Potosi, Mo., owned and operated by the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, will open the 1973 camping season at 2 p.m. Sunday.

"This will be the best year for attendance in the 20-year history of the camp, W. F. 'Mick' Strange, council camping chairman, said this week, noting that more than 1,200 Scouts from Madison and Bond counties are expected to attend the camp during the summer.

"Boy Scout camps are different from most summer camps in that they are an educational training experience rather than recreational in scope. The Scout's time is spent in learning experiences in such areas as geology, nature study, aquatic skills, survival and numerous outdoor related subjects," Strange said.

"The most important experience at camp is learning to work together for the betterment of the group. They learn to appreciate the wonders of God's creation and gain an appreciation of our country and our freedom," he said.

The first week will open with 181 Scouts and 10 leaders attending, in addition to 14 Scouts taking advanced Junior Leader training.

Attending camp from this area during the first week will be:

Troop 12, sponsored by Niedringhaus Parent Teachers Association—Joseph Vizer, leader; Frank Draganich, Bob Schiefke, Norman Stavelly, Tim Vizer, John Lisch.

Phil Fuller, Kent Watson, Jim Keller, Rick Gerhardt, Mike Finch, David Schiefke, Dan Bowers.

Troop 102, sponsored by the Suburban Baptist Church—William Monical, leader; Roger McFain, Jack Taylor, Robert Azar, Kent Monical, Tim McIlroy.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

Rumor of state building County board in area reported false budgets $467,092 of federal funds

Speculation that a state office building may be constructed here instead of at the previously announced East St. Louis site is false, Louis Whitsett, supervisor of Nameoki Township, announced at the town board meeting Monday night. Whitsett read a letter he received from State Sen. Sam Vadala (D-Edwardsville) denying the rumor that a different site was being sought for the office building.

Vadala said he had contacted Roland W. Burris, director of capital developments for the state, and Burris had said the building will be constructed in East St. Louis.

Land for the facility was offered to the state free of charge at Lakeside Airport by Bill Nichols, owner. Nichols spoke at the annual town meeting in April and said he had heard that a new site was being sought.

Whitsett read a letter he had written to Nick D. Vasileff, former township attorney, instructing him on behalf of the township auditors to expedite a pending suit contesting the annexation of Grigsby Junior High School into Granite City. The suit was filed in 1968 when Harry Briggs was township supervisor. The town board then paid Vasileff $3,000 in addition to his regular fee to handle the case.

Whitsett said since Vasileff already has been paid for his services, he should see the suit to a conclusion.

The present township attorney, William Schooley, is studying proceeding by Granite City to annex the Archer Daniels Midland Grain Co. grain elevator on Cargill Road and the soybean processing plant A.D.M. is constructing there.

In a letter read to the board Monday night, Schooley said he is studying the annexation progress and will review it in a legal opinion if the annexation becomes official.

A letter from Whitsett to trustees of the Long Lake Fire Protection District was read, informing them that all bills from the $10,000 revenue sharing the township is given them will have to be presented to the town board for payment. The money has been earmarked for fire hydrants. The trustees were informed they may prepare plans for additional fire hydrants and may advertise for bids when specifications have been prepared.

A letter from the Madison County Sanitation and Pollution office was read informing the board that the department can not help them block a modular home development on Park Lane in Fonton Beach. The letter said the project is not violating any laws pertaining to sanitation or pollution.

Whitsett has contended the project is blocking a natural ponding area and will cause flooding in the township. He also has questioned the adequacy of planned septic systems.

The town auditors asked that all township election equipment be returned to the town hall for an inventory.

3,709 cases ended by circuit courts

A total of 3,709 cases were terminated in Madison County Circuit Court during May, an increase of about 49% over last year, while 3,998 new cases were filed, an increase of about 49%, according to a report by Willard V. Portell circuit clerk. There were 10,961 cases pending.

Cases terminated included 59 jury and 15 non-jury for more than $15,000, 23 jury and 36 non-jury for $1,000 to $15,000, 743 small claims, 1,532 traffic violations, 89 felonies, 208 misdemeanors and 321 ordinance violations.

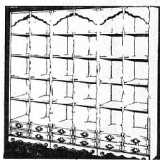

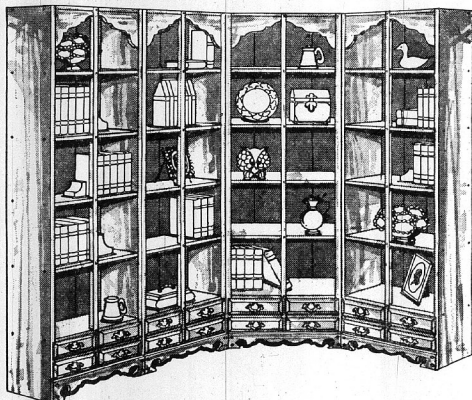

Dispositions were reached on 77 defendants in felony cases, with 29 convicted and 48 reduced to misdemeanors or dismissed.

Of those convicted, 13 were sentenced to prison, two received periodic imprisonment in a local jail and 14 were placed on probation. Judges granted 122 divorce decrees and dismissed seven cases.

$46,2 RADIOS STOLEN
Burglars took $40 and two black portable radios valued at $20 each at the home of Shirley Carlton, 1625 (rear) Delmar Ave., she reported at 11:55 p.m. Monday. Entry was gained by tearing off a bedroom screen.

BURGLARY AT SCHOOL

Burglars knocked over 11 new doors setting in a hall at Granite City High School North and knocked two holes in one of them, it was reported Monday. A can of rust-colored paint was thrown over a wall and along a hall. Nothing was missing, but damage was estimated at $120. Method of entry was unknown.

PROWLING CHARGED

Three persons were charged with prowling after police saw them at Marshall School where a window was broken at 11:50 p.m. Monday. They were Roy M. Stuber, 22, of 2719 Myrtle Ave.; Ted E. Barylske, 23, of 3001 Pershing Blvd.; and William C. Mathies, 21, of 2728 Marshall Ave.

Eight zoning changes approved by County Board

Eight petitions for zoning changes in area townships were approved by the Madison County Board, which also denied one, on the recommendation of the County Zoning Board of Appeals.

Petitions approved were those of:

Ralph Harris, to rezone two parcels of land from R-3 one-family residence district to B-3 high-way business district and another to rezone a tract of land from R-3 to B-4 wholesale business district in Nameoki Township.

Robert L. Carroll for the Jchn M. Marshall Gun Club to place a mobile home in an M-3 heavy industrial district in Nameoki Township.

Mrs. Kenneth McDowell, owner, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lehman, occupants of a mobile home, to place a mobile home in an R-2 one-family residence district in Nameoki Township.

until Horseshoe Lake State Park property is determined and settled.

Louis Collins, to construct and operate a confectionery in conjunction with his home to be built on the premises in an R-4 single-family residence district in Venice Township with a stipulation that he clean up the property and remove objectionable debris before the granting of a building permit.

Robert Wiley Jr., to construct and operate two apartment buildings with two apartments in each in an R-4 single-family residence district in Venice Township.

Carrol A. Tingley, to rezone a tract of land from R-3 one-family residence district to an M-2 general manufacturing district in Chouteau Township.

Denied was the petition of Kenneth George Sprloff to expand an existing business and add a new structure in an R-3 one-family residence district in Nameoki Township.

Deadline June 20 for fireworks permits

The deadline for any group of three or more persons residing in an unincorporated area of the county to apply for a fireworks permit for a Fourth of July display, at the office of County Clerk Eulalia Hoot at Edwardsville, is Wednesday, June 20.

State law requires that an application for a permit must be made at least 15 days prior to the display.

The Illinois Laws require the display to be handled by a competent individual, designated by the chairman of the County Board. Applicants are required to list three responsible persons who would be in charge of the fireworks. Nelson Hagnauer, County Board chairman, designates one of the three to supervise the fireworks display.

The statute provides that "Any person, firm, copartnership, or corporation violating the provisions of this Act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding One Hundred ($100.00) or by imprisonment in the county jail, not exceeding ninety (90) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment."
